Technology, Media & Privacy

Atheria's Technology, Media & Privacy team includes more than thirty lawyers and legal professionals.

Ours is a fast-moving practice, focused on first- and third-party losses and claims arising from data breaches, including ransomware and privacy incidents, and technology products and services, including breach of contract, intellectual property claims, and website defamation.

Our cyber expertise dates back to the first cyber policies ever created. Since then, we have worked on thousands of high-profile and complex data privacy and cyber security incidents involving a range of subject matter experts and global corporations, technology, media, retail and healthcare companies, and educational institutions.

LIST OF SERVICES

Our clients look to us for the depth of experience our lawyers have from acting as coverage and monitoring counsel for London and U.S. domestic insurers involving policyholders around the world, including:

- Data breaches impacting financial, education, hospitality, and retail sectors, from individual events to some of the largest and most complex data breach incidents ever reported.
- Class action lawsuits and regulatory proceedings flowing from data breaches and privacy violations, including the alleged unlawful collection and use of data.
- Claims involving phishing attacks, D-DOS attacks, ransomware / cyber extortion, and business interruption resulting from cyber incidents.
- Social engineering schemes resulting in fraudulent wire transfers.
- Technology errors and omissions claims, including software implementation disputes involving large projects and failures of technology hardware functionality.
- Class actions alleging violations of privacy statutes including the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA), the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), the Video Privacy Protection Act (VPPA), the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act (FACTA), and the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act (BIPA).
- Intellectual property claims, including patent infringement, copyright infringement, trademark infringement, and trade secret misappropriation, brought against policyholders ranging from the smallest startups to Silicon Valley's powerhouses.
- Matters alleging disparaging website content and online defamation.

KEY PARTNERS

Andrew T. Chan PARTNER	SEE BIO
Charlotte Worlock PARTNER	SEE BIO
Christina Terplan FOUNDING PARTNER	SEE BIO
EJ Kim PARTNER	SEE BIO
Jamison R. Narbaitz FOUNDING PARTNER	SEE BIO
Joan D'Ambrosio FOUNDING PARTNER	SEE BIO
Joshua Leach PARTNER	SEE BIO
Julie Choi Hawkinson FOUNDING PARTNER	SEE BIO

RELATED ARTICLES

MAJOR UK DATA BREACH CLASS ACTION SUITS ARISE IN THE WAKE OF GDPR

In two decisions rendered this month, the UK courts have permitted two major class-action lawsuits under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) regime. The suits prove that the GDPR opens the door for large representative suits on behalf of data breach victims..

SEE MORE ⟶

Bipartisan American Privacy Right Act Legislation Represents Another Attempt to Streamline Privacy Rights and Control of Personal Data

On Sunday, April 7, 2024, a bipartisan discussion draft of the American Privacy Rights Act ("the APRA") was presented by House Committee on Energy and Commerce Chair Cathy McMorris Rodgers, R-Wash., and Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation Chair Maria Cantwell, D-Wash., in suppor

SEE MORE ⟶

Fourth Circuit Vacates Class Certification In Marriott Data Breach Class Action

We report on a significant recent development in the Marriott data breach putative class action litigation. Following oral argument on May 3, 2023, the Fourth Circuit just issued its decision vacating the district court's largely unprecedented decision (from May 2022) which certified certain classes

SEE MORE ⟶

Connect with Us
Get in Touch
LinkedIn
Join Us

San Francisco
One Post Street
37th Floor
San Francisco, CA 94104
415-278-7100

Los Angeles
707 Wilshire Boulevard
Suite 5125
Los Angeles, CA 90017
310-871-9548

London
51 Lime Street
London, EC3M 7DQ
+44 (20) 4551 2158

© 2026 Atheria Law All Rights Reserved | Disclaimer | Privacy Policy