

Gadsden County

Community Resource Guide 2026

Acknowledgements

The Gadsden County Community Resource Guide (the Guide) will serve as a comprehensive, multi-agency, system level tool to enhance a more seamless system of service/resource coordination in Gadsden County, FL. It is designed for and by the community to enhance access to social, educational, emergency, health, and wellness services, which is an essential component in addressing socioeconomic determinants of health outcomes, service utilization, and cost (Albertson, et. al., 2022). When used, the Guide will enhance community partners/organizations' ability to identify, screen, connect, follow-up, and track services and linkages thereby strengthening Gadsden County's system of care.

This Guide was developed by the Center for Health Equity, Inc./Gadsden Woman to Woman Program (CHE/GWTW) with the invaluable support and collaboration from numerous community partners especially members of the Gadsden Community Health Council (GCHC). We extend our appreciation to members of GCHC and community-based partners who dedicated time and effort to collect and submit information to be included in the Guide.

CHE/GWTW will continue to maintain the Guide for the Gadsden County, FL community and encourages all community partners/organizations to submit updated information about their programs (services, location(s), hours of services, contact information, eligibility criteria, and other relevant details) via email to info@centerfortheequity.com.

Notes About This Guide

Navigation

Users can access the Guide either through the interactive version or by downloading it using the provided link.

In the interactive version, use the right and left arrow keys on your keyboard to move forward or backward through the pages. Press the spacebar to pause or resume playback.

You can also use the on-screen controls by clicking the Play/Pause button. To navigate to a different section of the Guide, drag the progress indicator (the circle on the media bar) to the left or right to move backward or forward through the document.
