CHAIRMAN'S REPORT for the year ended 31 May 2025

The Aidan Woodcock Charitable Trust, which operates under the name Maiastra, has continued to provide high quality chamber music courses for talented young music students.

I am delighted to report that over the past year Maiastra has arranged 25 public concerts for 32 students. We held four residential courses and six non-residential courses. The residential courses take place in a beautiful converted barn in the Surrey Hills outside Dorking which provides an ideal space in which to study the chamber music repertoire over a ten-day period under the direction of one of our course directors. The non-residential courses are aimed at more advanced students who intend to become professional musicians and who are nearing the end of their musical training, so the rehearsal time is reduced to two days before the performance of two or three public concerts. In addition to these courses, we held two fundraising concerts and we were invited to perform at Oriel College Oxford. To summarise Maiastra's activities over the past four years:

ė.	24/25	23/24	22/23	21/22
Public concerts (following courses)	25	23	23	25
Fundraising concerts	2	0	0	0
Private concert at Oriel College Oxford	1	0	0	0
Students	32	31	23	35
Residential courses	4	4	4	4
Non-residential courses	6	4	4	5

Course directors

Each course is directed by a course director of the highest quality. This year our course directors were Arisa Fujita, Matthijs Broersma, David Waterman, Akiko Ono, Bartosz Woroch and Florence Cooke. Upon these course directors lies the responsibility of achieving and maintaining the standards which we and our audiences have come to expect and to them the charity owes a substantial debt of gratitude.

Outside coaching

Professor David Takeno continues to provide inspirational input not only as a coach for the courses but also through his interest and concern for the work of the charity. We are fortunate to have excellent backup in David Waterman, previously cellist of the Endellion Quartet, and Simon Rowland-Jones, violist of the Chilingirian Quartet. Each one of these coaches is outstanding.

Administration

Organising public concerts entails much work. The Trust's marketing and concert organisation has been run very efficiently by Sarah Baldwin, a professional violinist, as Marketing and Operations Manager. Anna Phillips, a professional harpist, has joined us as Concert Manager. Laurence Herbert continues to do a sterling job in providing accounting services for the Trust.

In addition, we greatly appreciate the tremendous support of the many volunteers who assist in different ways, such as serving refreshments and audience liaison. Many thanks to them all.

Board

I extend my thanks to all our trustees who support the charity in many different ways.

Financial position

For the year ending 31 May 2025, the Trust's income increased by 48% to £59,423. Our costs have risen by 28% to £99,640. These costs include a grant of £4,373 to the Parkinson's UK charity following a fundraising concert in September 2024 and the grant of the Bowers viola, which had been valued at £2,500, to the Yehudi Menuhin School. The trustees considered this instrument appropriate for a school aged student but not for a budding professional player. The viola had been gifted to the charity out of the estate of Mrs Susan Woodcock in March 2022. The course and marketing figures rose in line with the increased number of concerts. The Trust's investments have increased by £3,125.

Instruments

In 2015 the Trust acquired a Matteo Goffriller violin c. 1690 so that it could be loaned to a promising performer on a year-by-year basis. Since then, the violin has been used by Savitri Grier whose career has developed well and who divides her time between performing with the Kaleidoscope Chamber Collective and the Orchestre Philharmonique de Radio France. The violin was handed back on 15 July 2025 and the trustees are considering who to loan the violin to. Of the items donated to the charity in March 2022, the Bowers viola has been granted to the Menuhin School; three bows have been sold, two have been loaned to talented Maiastra students and the remaining one has been placed with a Maiastra student on a 36 month hire purchase plan.

Donors

It continues to be desirable to maintain the free-of-all-charge student policy in relation to the courses and this would not be possible without donations, both general and those arising from retiring collections at the end of each concert. A word of special thanks to all our donors who enable us to fulfil our objectives and for whom the concerts themselves stand as a testament to their generosity.

The Future

The trustees of the Aidan Woodcock Charitable Trust are looking forward to meeting the challenge of continuing to nurture musical talent in young people about which Aidan cared so deeply.

TRUSTEES' REPORT for the year ended 31 May 2025

The trustees present their report and accounts for the year ended 31 May 2025. The accounts have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the accounts and comply with the Trust's rules, applicable law, and the requirements of the Statement of Recommended Practice, "Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2005), applicable UK accounting standards and the Charities Act 2011".

Objects of the charity

The Aidan Woodcock Charitable Trust was established to promote, maintain, improve and advance education by the encouragement of the art or science of music, in particular chamber music, in such ways as shall be thought fit. The Trust is governed by a board of trustees. The board of trustees meets regularly to discuss plans, finance and fundraising. Trustees are appointed by existing trustees in General Meetings.

Review of activities and performance

See Chairman's Report (pages 2 - 3).

Brand Name

Concerts promoted by the Trust are done so under the brand name MAIASTRA, the magic bird of Romanian folklore gifted with the power of restorative song.

Trustees

The trustees who served during the year are listed in the legal and administrative section.

Reserves policy

It is the policy of the Trust that unrestricted funds which have not been designated for a specific use should be maintained at a level required to continue to meet the objectives of the Trust. The trustees consider that reserves at this level will ensure that, in the event of a significant drop in funding or increase in its costs, they will be able to continue to meet the Trust's objectives. Consideration is given to ways in which additional funds may be raised.

Safeguarding

The Trust has always regarded Safeguarding as of the utmost importance and there have been no instances of abuse reported since its inception. The Safeguarding policy has this year been updated and a copy of the policy and procedures is provided to all participants prior to their participating in any course regardless of its duration or location.

Risk factors

The trustees consider risks as part of their ongoing planning and decision making and the trustees are satisfied that systems are in place to manage such risks.

Asset cover for funds

The assets are sufficient to meet the Trust's obligations.

On behalf of the board of trustees

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MAY 2025

The charity trustees are responsible for preparing a trustees' annual report and financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the charity trustees to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- · select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- · observe the methods and principles in the applicable Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements:
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the applicable Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations, and the provisions of the Trust deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES

I report on the accounts of the Trust for the year ended 31 May 2025, which are set out on pages 7 to 11.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- Examine the accounts (under section 145 of the 2011 Act),
- To follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5) of the 2011 Act),
- and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanation from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a "true and fair view" and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention

- 1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material aspect the requirements:
 - a) to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
 - b) to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act

have not been met, or

2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
