

Emnor Mechanical Inc.
20 Depew Street
Hamilton, Ontario
L8L 7H8

Emnor Uses 3D modeling to increase impeller diameter

Images show extrapolation

The diameter of a stainless steel process pump impeller was increased. Vane geometry was measured using a portable co-ordinate measuring machine, and then extended to the new size. Plates we manufactured and installed, and then finish machined and balanced. The price and delivery was well under the cost of new. Please contact us to learn more about how we can reclaim used casting to like new condition.