

Accessibility Statement — Skipping Skills

Skipping Skills is committed to providing an iOS app that is accessible to everyone, including people with disabilities. I'm a solo developer, and I'm working to bring the app into alignment with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1, Level AA.

The web version of Skipping Skills is hosted through Thinkific. Please refer to Thinkific's accessibility statement: <https://www.thinkific.com/accessibility/>

The following applies to the iOS app version of Skipping Skills:

What's already in place:

- All instructional videos include closed captions
- The app has been tested with VoiceOver for screen reader navigation

Known limitations and ongoing work:

- Some text in skill lists does not yet resize with iOS Dynamic Type settings
- A few areas of the app do not meet minimum color contrast requirements
- I am reviewing and updating these issues as part of ongoing development
