SENIOR ACCOUNT MANAGER

ABOUT

Lisa Grossman serves as a Senior Account Manager at OPVEON and brings a rich background in customer-focused roles. Her family has a long history of customer service, having owned Sloan Jewelers for over 65 years, where Lisa worked for 25 years. In her current role, Lisa collaborates closely with the OPVEON Business Development team to spearhead customer service initiatives. She possesses over a decade of experience in the printing and litigation support industry, having previously worked at Litgistix before OPVEON's acquisition in July 2022.

Lisa's primary responsibilities include working directly with OPVEON's digital printing department to ensure that customers receive highquality products with a fast turnaround. She also prioritizes prompt and courteous pickup and delivery services to enhance the customer experience, underscoring her commitment to customer satisfaction.

Lisa is a native Tulsan, having graduated from Bishop Kelley High School, and she enjoys engaging with customers across the Tulsa area. Outside of her professional life, Lisa takes pleasure in spending time with her family, including her twin grandsons.
