

Casting Seeds of New Life in Palestine

At Ramallah Friends School and in Palestine we hope that 2022 will be the year of the post-COVID renaissance—adapting and growing from the lessons learnt by the various crises of the past few years. As we proceed as way opens, we embrace the newfound opportunities in educating our children and remain steadfast in our mission to provide exceptional education to Palestinian society. Ramallah Friends School is committed to the testimony of community, and we are working to provide our staff and students with the optimal climate to thrive and arrive at their fullest potential. We are dedicated to enhancing their wellbeing, responding to spiritual and emotional needs, and catering for their social development. Through the support provided by FUM, we are also working to guide, inform, and inspire our student body through Quaker values-based mission as students forge their leadership trajectory.

“And I saw then there was a seed in that country and that God had humble people there.” — George Fox
