40th ANNUAL CONFERENCE

PEOPLE, PURPOSE
& PASSION:
THE PATHWAY TO SUCCESS

JULY 7-10, 2015
Anaheim, CA
Hyatt Regency

“The NAHN experience has been an overall empowering experience for me! It has made me feel as if I’m meant to do something greater than myself. As a student nurse, it has enlighten me to look at the many possibilities in where I can become impactful to contribute to be part of solutions in trending issues now, and down the road which affects my community. My experience has propelled me forward to exceed the role of a perspective Register Nurse and to further continue my nursing education to a higher degree”.

—Dan ,

IHNA member student nurse

Core Values:

Advancement and Education

A culture of professional development reflects the commitment to promote continuous growth, improvement and understanding of all individuals represented within the organization.

The Nurse

A culture of empowerment is evident through the organizational strategies to invest in a diverse set of Registered Nurses at all levels of education and practice.

Research and Policy

A culture of advocacy is fundamental to the improvement of health and healthcare outcomes for all healthcare consumers.

Community Involvement

A culture of engagement reflects a commitment to the health and well-being of all members of society.

- This year's agenda focuses on great content delivering up-to-date information about the changing healthcare landscape, and holds immense opportunity for nurses who provide healthcare services to the Hispanic community, regardless of their ethnic background. All which are not only essential but invaluable to my future career role as a community outreach nurse, nursing student, and my active role in contributing to NAHN's mission. The conference featured many compelling motivational keynote speakers, workshops that provided invaluable knowledge that could help me promote IHNA'S and UHP's core values in helping to foster student nurse leaders and evidently help them to transitions into leaders in the workforce.
