A STUDY 001 / Blæhr Vase Large

Linnea Ek Blæhr

A STUDY 001 / Blæhr Vase, designed by Danish creative Linnea Ek Blæhr, embarks on a quest to unravel the ceaseless poetry within mouth-blown glass. It stands as a homage to the innate charm that resides in the essence of the material and a relentless curiosity for the creative process—styling a material that, by nature, conveys depth, character, and a play for the senses, allowing it to take on a tactile shape that celebrates the inherent beauty of the natural material. Kindly be aware that when crafting with natural materials, the final product may exhibit characteristics such as air bubbles, condensation resulting in a minor oil film, and slight colour discrepancies. A STUDY is a creative workshop and an ongoing voyage by New Works, explored in collaboration with talented professionals—a space dedicated to the curiosity of materials, crafts, and the sensory affluence of tactile experiences.
