HIRO BENCH

Named after the Japanese word for “generous,” the Hiro Bench reflects openness and ease through its minimalist design. Light and sculptural, it offers a relaxed seating experience while fitting naturally into a variety of spaces.

Made entirely from upholstered cylinders, the bench features three cushions across the seat and two column-like legs, each built from four cylinders. This thoughtful construction emphasizes comfort and craftsmanship while creating a clean, sculptural profile.

Inspired by minimalist sculpture, the Hiro Bench balances everyday function with refined design. Its versatile form integrates seamlessly into entryways, living rooms, or bedrooms, serving as both a practical seat and a subtle design statement. Detailed stitching enhances the upholstery, underscoring its balance of softness, precision, and welcoming presence.
