

Tavolo a Dischi Dining Table - Round, Ø150, Veneer

Designed by Carlo De Carli - 1963

ITEM NUMBER	Tavolo a Dischi Dining Table	61143
DESCRIPTION	Designed in 1963 by the influential Italian architect Carlo De Carli, the Tavolo a Dischi dining table is an elegant marriage of function and form, combining structural innovation, expressive materiality, and practical excellence. The round table is ingeniously constructed from 3cm-thick walnut-veneer, birch plywood discs and a tabletop in matching walnut veneer, all made from FSC®-certified wood and wood from other responsible sources (FSC® C176589). Varying in diameter, the discs are stacked around a concealed metal core to form an elegant curve that supports the generous tabletop. A burnished brass-toned steel band at the base adds material contrast while providing protection. Available in two sizes, the Tavolo a Dischi is equally suited to dining, meetings, or gatherings — a centerpiece that brings people together, fostering connection and conversation.
