Online Therapeutic Visual Arts Program

Power of Art

Take the next step on your artistic healing journey.

Experience the healing potential of art through painting, light and darkness drawing, sculpture, and form drawing. Develop your creativity, artistic abilities, and observation skills and begin to lay the foundation for working artistically to bring health and well-being for yourself and others.

In our time, there is a widespread need for the inner benefits that artistic work can provide. Art is calming, centering, embodying, and enlivening. It directs our forces of health into positive pathways for our body, soul, and spirit. The Healing Power of Art program builds a foundation in the health promoting aspects of art and provides the groundwork for further studies. This program is for people of all ages and levels of experience. The online format allows participation from around the world.
