FOCUS OF THE MONTH: INTERNAL MOTIVATION

At CSA, we use Internal Motivation Psychology to help students grow into independent thinkers and responsible individuals. This approach encourages students to make positive choices, do their best, and discover the values that will guide them both in school and in life. We focus on creating supportive classrooms, building strong relationships, and modeling the character traits we expect students to show. We also teach routines and protocols so that students know what's expected and can succeed in a safe and respectful environment.

In advisory, this month, we are working on goal setting, which will allow students to understand their values and goals. We will also focus on reflection in the coming months on goals and where progress can lead to next.

Dear Advisory Families,

I hope you and your family had a wonderful summer! I am excited to begin another school year and look forward to working with your students as they continue to grow both academically and personally.

A special welcome goes out to our freshmen families as your students begin their high school journey. We are so glad to have you as part of our school community.

This year, we have many advisory activities and school events planned to help support students and build connections. I will be sure to keep you informed through announcements and regular communication.

As always, please don't hesitate to reach out by email if you have any questions or concerns.

Wishing you and your student a fantastic year ahead!
