

FRASER FANFARE

September

Family Meeting

Family meetings are a crucial part of the classroom community. Each morning, students and teachers gather on the carpet to greet each other, share good things, and play an interactive game. This time of day is incredibly important. It helps students gain social skills, meet new people, and learn how to work together to create a meaningful and productive classroom environment. Each game that we played in Fraser this week helped students work together by overcoming challenges, regulating emotions such as disappointment, and learning boundaries when working in each other's spaces. All of these elements improve our classroom learning space. Through Family Meeting, students feel confident, comfortable, and cared for through their learning.

FRAISER FANFARE

Developmental Approach

CSA's founding philosophy, the Developmental Approach, honors the diverse developmental journeys of children by acknowledging and addressing the fact that children, while hitting the same developmental milestones, develop at different rates. Meeting children where they are at and honoring the timing of their growth ensures that needs are effectively met. This method is comprehensive and collaborative! Through the team-teaching model, we are able to meet needs holistically - not just in one academic area, and not just in academics.

Character Corner

In this section of our newsletter, we will share information regarding our character education program including character traits, social protocols, and related concepts like manners. As we start this new school year, we spend a lot of time talking to students about not only our classroom expectations as teachers, but also our students' expectations for the year. By creating clear expectations with students, we hope to create an environment where students feel ownership over their classroom procedures while still maintaining a safe and nurturing place for our students to learn and grow. Next week, we will continue to talk about procedures while also introducing our Smart Character Choices.

Parent Partnership

Please be sure to continue to send students to school with peanut and tree nut free food!! This is incredibly important this year.

Reminder that there is absolutely no smart watches or phones aloud in school. All communication must go through the office or through teachers. We appreciate the understanding and partnership with us.

Coming Soon

Have a great September!
