

Advisory News

HAPPY NOVEMBER!

I can't believe the first quarter is already behind us! Jumping into November, we will be working to apply the lessons that we have been learning this past quarter to help round out and solidify our first semester experience!

After this month, we will have about three weeks before winter break, so let's work on solidifying everything we can in November!

You'll also be working with a "new teacher" (in name only) starting after break ;P

HIGH EXPECTATIONS

At CSA, we believe every student can achieve amazing things. We know that each student has unique talents, strengths, and potential, and we're here to help them shine. That's why we set high expectations for all our students. It's not about pressure; it's about believing in what they're capable of and supporting them every step of the way.

Research shows that when teachers truly believe in their students, those students learn and grow even more. At CSA, we see that every day. When we aim high together, students not only meet goals they often surprise themselves with how much they can accomplish.

We're proud to be a community where students feel encouraged, families feel supported, and everyone works together to help our learners reach their full potential.

MONTHLY THEME

- High Expectations
- Be Reflective!

A REFLECTIVE STUDENT

Identifies and understands their strengths and weaknesses

- Celebrate your wins – big and small!
- Identify which classes are your favorites!
- Identify which classes are your least favorites!
- Consider the why behind these
- Try to find ways to use your strengths to grow your engagement toward your least favorite classes!

Understanding these will support your learning and your personal development!

Upcoming Events

Pictured: Ms. Kushner and fiancé Brady – by the end of the month, she'll be Mrs. Jacobs!!

Thurs., November 6

- Evening CSRs

Fri., November 14

- Progress Reports go home

Fri., November 21

- Something Rotten Performance (Musical)

Mon., November 24 - Fri. November 27

- NO SCHOOL - Thanksgiving Break

Wed., November 26

- Kushner ➡ Jacobs transformation!

CALENDAR

ANNOUNCEMENTS & REMINDERS

IMPORTANT REMINDER!

- It's getting chilly – both outside and inside!
 - Please ensure that your students are coming to school with uniform layering options and in/with uniform shoes to wear during the day!
- As an avid skirt-wearer, I recommend a nice pair of tights or thermal leggings under skirts or wide-legged pants!

FOR MORE VISIT:

<https://www.csatuesdaytimes.com/newsletters/cspa-weekly>