PROUD TO CARE FESTIVAL

Cornwall's first Proud to Care Festival is taking place during half-term at Lemon Quay in Truro City Centre. The festival will be on 24 October 2018 and aims to show people how rewarding a career in care can be.

Join us from 10am- 4pm for a showcase of some of the most inspiring and exciting work happening across the care sector. There will be a host of activities happening throughout the day.

The event is open to all and is a great opportunity to support Taylor's of Grampound. Come along a talk to other people who maybe interested in joining our team. It is also a chance to celebrate the work that you all do to support and help people live independently in our Cornish community.

We'll have a number of free family-friendly activities to keep the kids occupied, from face painting to circus acts, live music and food. We look forward to seeing some of you there.

Come along and support Taylor's.

SPOTLIGHT

- Check out our Facebook page. We would appreciate it if you could leave a review on our Facebook Page. As a thank you, you will be entered in our prize draw on Friday 30 November so be sure to leave your name.
- We are pleased to be introducing new tunics as part of our re-banding. You will see these being introduced over the coming months. We hope you like them.
- It is important that we remain responsive to the needs of our Cornish community. Therefore we are excited to announce that we are offering a new service - Live-in Support for those who wish to have 24/7 support within the comfort of their own home

A RIDDLE

Gemma is trapped in a large room containing two chairs, a sofa and a bed. The room has only two possible exits: a blue door and a green door. Through the blue door there is a room constructed from magnifying glass. The blazing hot sun instantly fries everything that enters the blue door. Through the green door there is a red and black fire-breathing dragon with protruding eyes. How does the Gemma escape from the large room?
