About DevCo

DevCo is a long-term oriented active owner and development partner dedicated to building world leading companies in selected niche markets with c. €2 billion in assets under management. Since 2014, we have completed more than 20 international M&A transactions and built a portfolio of four global niche leaders: Bluefors, Medix Biochemica, Vexve, and our most recent platform investment, a leading global supplier of piling and foundation equipment.

Today, we continue to invest in and develop our portfolio companies while actively seeking our fifth platform investment through a dedicated €300 million fund.

Join DevCo as an Investment Intern and gain hands-on experience in private equity, M&A, financial analysis, and company building while working as an integral part of our investment team.

What we're offering

- Hands-on experience in private equity, active ownership and company building
- High-degree of responsibility working with investment professionals and senior decision-makers
- Day-to-day work across investments, market research, financial modelling and strategic projects
- A dynamic team, central Helsinki office and competitive compensation

An ideal candidate has

- Interest in private equity, active ownership and company building
- Strong analytical skills, drive and entrepreneurial mindset
- Completed at least 2 years of university studies in finance, economics, industrial engineering, or a related field
- Relevant work experience from investment banking, management consulting or private equity
- Excellent academic track record and full working proficiency in English
