

Elyce Cole

President, Executive Committee (2025-present)

Vice President (2022-2025)

Secretary (2019-2022)

Elyce (she/they) joined the New York Center membership in 2019. Group Relations methodology is integral to her approach as a systems-psychodynamic organisation development and change consultant, team coach, and researcher. Her expertise includes supporting multidisciplinary teams to improve their effectiveness in the public and VCSE sectors, specifically within public health, education, tech, and health and social care.

Other relevant affiliations include: co-founder and Executive Director, Hard Problems; associate member, International Society for the Psychoanalytic Study of Organizations; associate member, the A.K. Rice Institute for the Study of Social Systems; Foundation Course trainee, Institute of Group Analysis; co-founding member, Black Leadership and Authority Coalition; and former senior researcher/consultant, Tavistock Institute of Human Relations.

Elyce is currently a PhD candidate in Systems Psychodynamics at the National Institute of Organisation Dynamics Australia and holds an MSc from University College London in Theoretical Psychoanalytic Studies, an MA from Teachers College, Columbia University in Social-Organizational Psychology, and a BBA in International Business and Marketing from George Washington University.