The oral examinations were held under the supervision of the Admission Commission composed of Dr Sistiana Aiello (Istituto Mario Negri, Bergamo), Dr Laura Brunelli (Istituto Mario Negri, Milano), Dr. Antonio Clavenna (Istituto Mario Negri, Milano), Dr Elena Fattore (Istituto Mario Negri, Milano) and Dr. Francesca Ricci (Istituto Mario Negri, Milano).

The examination was intended to assess the candidate's attitude towards scientific research and their knowledge of the topics related to the preferred thesis project. For all non-native speakers, English language proficiency was assessed.

The Commission evaluated the candidates through an individual interview lasting approximately 20 by assigning a score on the following aspects: exposure skills, synthesis skills, the ability to use critical thinking in answering the Commission's questions, and their knowledge of the topics of the preferred PhD projects.

All candidates achieved the required minimum score of 47 points.

The candidates that scored at least 65 points (titles + interview) are considered eligible. The candidates' final scores are reported in Attachment 1. As provided by the Call, the first 15 candidates in the ranking will be admitted to the PhD in Clinical and Experimental Pharmacology A.Y. 2026-2027.
