

Rani Reddy

Associate

Rani is a compassionate and methodical advocate who brings a strategic lens to every case she handles. Drawing on her background in corporate litigation, she approaches family law matters with focus, precision, and a deep understanding of complex legal issues.

Before joining DRS, Rani practiced at Baker Botts L.L.P., where she handled complex commercial litigation in both state and federal courts. She is admitted to practice before the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, the United States District Courts for the Northern and Central Districts of California, and the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California.

Committed to giving back, Rani maintains an active pro bono practice. She has represented clients in federal court, advocated for survivors of domestic violence in U Visa applications, and supported minors in guardianship matters, earning recognition for excellence in child centered representation.

Prior to practicing law, Rani taught middle school math in Oakland, California, an experience that informs her client-centered approach to advocacy.
