*Class of 2018,
Looking back one year, what advice would you give the current students of Mercy College?*

Mary Carmen:

If you don't know what you want to do after College that is 100% OKAY!

Don't stress too much about it because you are still young and you will find your way!

Brianna Dal Col:

Keep organised and on top of assessments and homework.

There is always another path so don't stress if things don't go your way.

Katherine Dawn Manalo:

Take time to make connections, whether that be via joining a sport team, debating, book club or even just speaking to other students.

Making friends is one of the most lasting impacts you can make at College.

-Thoughts and Messages

Katherine Hua:

Try not to stress too much about getting through high school. Although it is important to work hard and do your best, it's important to enjoy your time too and not waste time stressing.

Jiaxi Liao:

Keep open the lines of communication with your teachers.

Remember time management is important.

Nicole Markis:

Try out every opportunity and remember organisation is important!

There's always another pathway if things don't work out!

Therese Moffitt:

Try your best! School will be over before you know it!

Nicole Nabbout:

Always challenge yourself and step out of your comfort zone. Don't be afraid to try something new or to immerse yourself in the abundance of opportunities offered to you throughout the remainder of your schooling.

Embrace the time you have left at Mercy and ensure that you can look back and feel proud of the impact you have made.

Jingyu Wang:

Organise your time when you need to study.

It's important to keep up the communication with your teachers to help you with your studies and your friends are a good support too!
