

?? I wonder..??

Crouch down and ask your grown-up to say "again". Each time they say it stand up a little bit. How many times do they say it until you're standing up straight?

Tell your grown-up a story about something that grew again and again. What happened? It could be about the magic beanstalk growing again and again.

Play a game with the Again snip-outs. Choose an action for your grown-up to do, then hold up Again so they know how many times to do it. Then swap so they choose the action and how many times you do it!

Well done!
