

Colour Explorer Missions

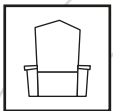

Imagine you are a chameleon. What colour do you think you would be?

When you are out and about, try and spot things that can be more than one colour. Think about traffic lights, birds, trees or flowers.

Can you think of some animals that are more than one colour? Things like zebras and parrots! Shout them out to your grown up and ask them to make a list with you.

Find a picture of a creature in a magazine or pamphlet. What colour is it? Can you draw a picture they could hide in? You could camouflage a lizard in the leaves or a blue fish in the sea.

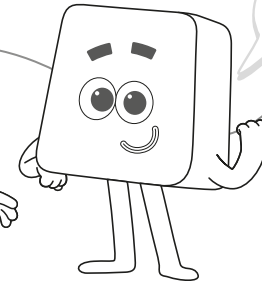

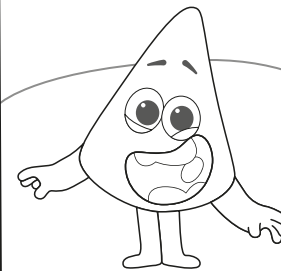

For your next mission, find the episode 'Silly Colouring'

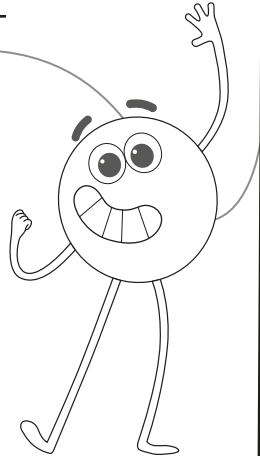

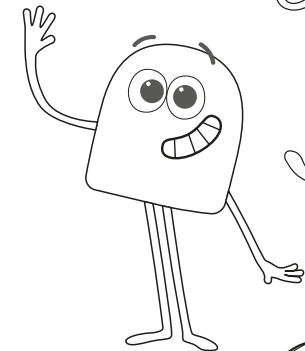

Chameleon

This mission belongs to _____ Meet our new friend!

Will you colour her red, blue, green or yellow? You choose!

What animal is this? Shout out her name!

Level 1

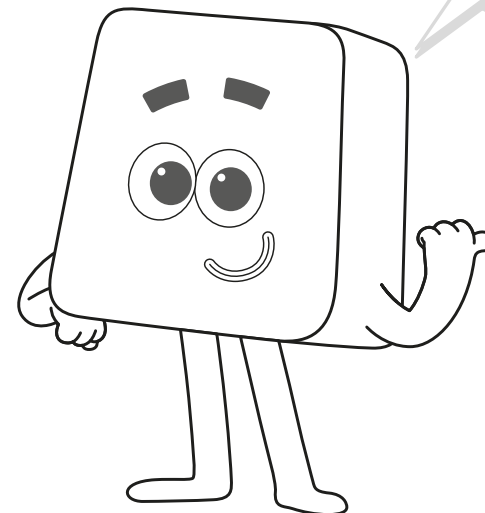

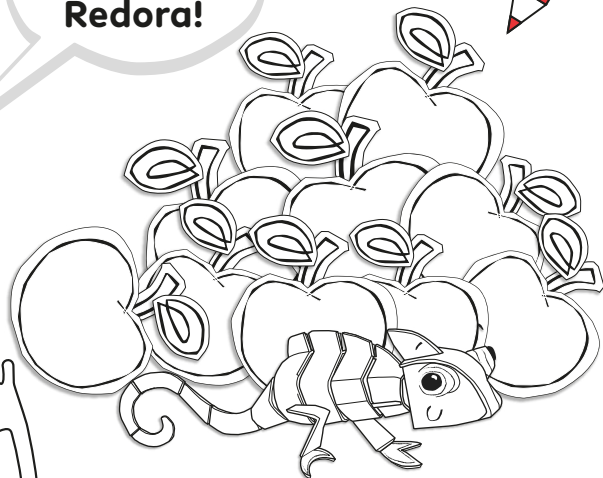

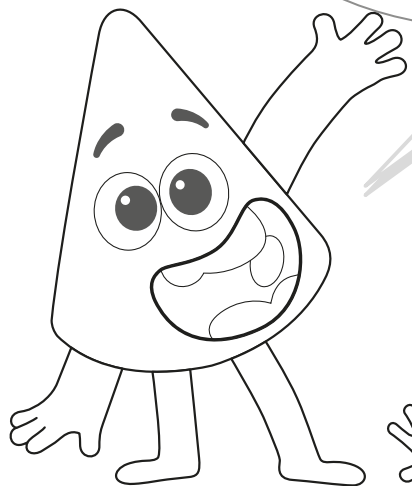

Some animals can change colour

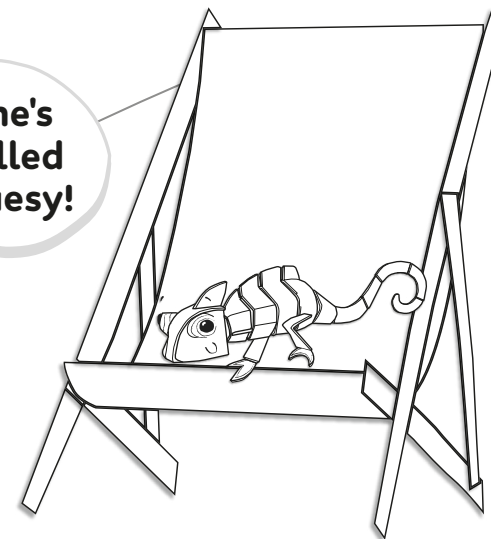

Chameleon

Grab your red, green, yellow and blue crayons!

I'm going to call her Redora!

She's called Bluesy!

Say it!

Chameleons can change colour!

Meet Yellownie!

She's called a chameleon!

Play Together

Find the chameleon game!

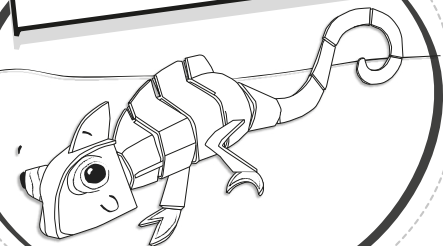

Colour your chameleon in any colour you like. Be as creative as you want!

Next, cut her out and try putting her in different places. Does she stand out or does she blend in? Can you find a good place for her to hide?

Wear your badge!

I love chameleons!

Did you know?

Read these amazing facts about chameleons!

Chameleons can be more than one colour.

Chameleons change colour to show how they feel.

Chameleons change colours to hide.

Chameleons change colour to stand out.

Pick your two favourites!

