ABOUT

Terry Winstead is a director at HHM CPAs. Backed with over 20 years of experience, Terry brings knowledge gained in both private and public accounting to serve tax, audit, and consulting clients in the manufacturing, construction, governmental, and nonprofit industries.

In addition, Terry is heavily involved in HHM's peer review practice, helping other CPA firms improve their quality of service. Terry worked in public accounting at the start of his career, then spent time as a controller for a furniture manufacturer in Morristown, Tennessee. He re-entered public accounting in 2006 and has been an owner of a firm.

During his career, Terry has also held various leadership positions with professional and community organizations.

In his free time, Terry enjoys traveling with his family and reading.
