ABOUT

Brad Culbreth is a supervisor in HHM Chattanooga's audit department. He performs audits, reviews, and compilations for a variety of clients ranging from nonprofits to electrical distributors. Brad also prepares business and individual tax returns and assists clients in tax planning and consultation.

Working alongside his colleagues in the Chattanooga office, Brad understands the importance of teamwork but also strives for outstanding personal performance as part of the team. He considers himself a people person and enjoys building deep relationships with clients based on this strong philosophy.

Brad enjoys spending his free time with his family. He also enjoys an afternoon spent on the golf course or playing on his church-league softball team.
