ABOUT

Kira Wheat brings over 16 years of experience to the firm's tax practice. As a senior tax manager, Kira assists high net worth and closely held business clients in the areas of tax compliance, tax planning, staff and project management, and billing.

Kira's standard of service includes meeting with clients to listen and learn their business and personal needs so that her advice is tailored to their unique situation. Prior to joining the firm, Kira gained experience at a Chicago-based public accounting firm, in private accounting at an international corporation, and spent a short time in banking.

Kira is a graduate of North Central College and is a Quickbooks Proadvisor. In her free time, Kira enjoys time with family and enjoying the outdoors.
