ABOUT

Rick Webb has over 40 years of experience managing financial statement engagements, providing tax services, and consulting for a broad range of clients. He is responsible for the development and implementation of the firm's auditing standards, the audit workpaper review, and audit staff training, in addition to management advisory services for his clients and the firm.

Prior to joining HHM in 2017, Rick spent 37 years with Brundige, Payne & Co. in Memphis where he honed his audit, tax, and consulting skills in a wide range of industries including manufacturing, contractors/subcontractors, real estate, wholesale/retail distributions, RV dealers and non-profits. He grew up in a small west Tennessee town where his parents instilled in him important values of integrity and doing what's right. Rick also served in the US Army for almost three years where his attitude of service and discipline were reinforced.

Rick graduated from the University of Memphis in 1976 and received his CPA certification in 1979. He has been practicing accounting ever since. In his spare time, he can be found supporting his alma mater the University of Memphis at football and basketball games, cheering on the Memphis Grizzlies at their home games, spending time with his wife and children, and enjoying the outdoors playing golf and bass fishing.
