

Letter of Continued Interest – Law School Waitlist

Dear Admissions Committee,

Thank you for continuing to review my application. The waitlist period gave me time to think carefully about where I want to study law and the kind of legal training that would prepare me best. That reflection has only strengthened my interest in your law school.

Since submitting my application, my academic work hasn't let up. This term meant a lot of reading, a lot of sitting with difficult material, and writing that forced me to slow down and be precise. Over time, I noticed myself engaging more carefully with arguments and becoming more intentional about how I put ideas together. Outside the classroom, I stayed involved in responsibilities that required preparation and follow-through. Those experiences quietly reinforced the habits I know I'll rely on in law school.

The more I learn about your program, the more the intellectual tone stands out. Classroom engagement appears grounded in careful reasoning, not display. Speaking with current students helped confirm that curiosity is supported and responsibility is expected. That approach fits how I learn and how I hope to grow.

I want to state my intent plainly. An offer of admission would be accepted without hesitation. Your law school is where I hope to begin my legal education.

Thank you for the time and care you bring to this process. I appreciate the opportunity to remain under consideration and would be glad to provide any additional information if helpful.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
