

Homeschooling Curriculum Guides Series

FAQ

Who is the author? What is their credibility?

Willemien Kruger is not only an Industrial Engineer, but most importantly a mom of three (20yrs, 17yrs and 14yrs) whom she has homeschooled for all of their lives. She has always compiled their own curriculum using the best resources around, with a strong focus on Mathematics and Science. Only after a strong foundation in education has been laid well, a suitable qualification is chosen. The oldest has graduated with Cambridge A-levels. The second is busy with his qualification already and the youngest is still going strong the eclectic way. As a homeschool advisor/consultant Willemien has helped many people start and continue their homeschool journey with confidence, especially when doing it the eclectic way.

Why was this series developed? To fill what need?

In the process of doing homeschooling with her own children she has been approached by many others for help and advice, eventually developing a website and other resources to meet this need. Homeschooling Curriculum Guides are the outflow of comprehensively answering these numerous questions especially those asked over and over again, such as:

- What are the pros and cons of homeschooling? (Considering Home Education)
- How do we start homeschooling? (How to Start Home Education)
- What to focus on during the different stages of Child Development? (Child Development Phases)
- Is it legal in South Africa? What must I do? What curriculum options are available? (Home Education in South Africa)

- What about Organisation, Administration and Socialization? (Organisation, Administration and Socialization)
- How do I go about compiling my own curriculum? (The 7-Step process to improve your Homeschool)
- What did you do with your children? (A Personal Eclectic Curriculum)

Is Homeschooling Guides a curriculum?

It is not a curriculum for children. It was written for parents asking the questions about homeschooling, especially when they start out with home education. It is to support and encourage parents, especially those wanting the 'best' for their own children. It is also for parents who intuitively know that no one curriculum will do everything for them, and are looking for answers on how to compile the 'best' curriculum for their own children.

It is also helpful for those parents who are already homeschooling but they are feeling burnt out, discouraged and not sure where to go from here. The Homeschooling Guides will inspire new vision to continue the journey.

Are there discounts available?

Yes. Although the books are only R50 each, you get a discount if you buy the whole set of 7 books.

In what format do I get the book?

The books are available as downloads in PDF format. Regrettably, there are no printed format books available.