The school operates a snack scheme free of charge for all children which provides children with a fruit snack and water each day. Children are provided with a named water bottle for their personal use. Milk is also available through Cool Milk at School, details of which can be obtained from the school office.

Our Curriculum

We provide a curriculum which offers the children a broad and relevant education where learning is related to real contexts and links are made between subjects. Reading, writing and maths are at the heart of all that we do so that children leave our school with the key skills that they need for success in the future.

The curriculum has been carefully constructed to ensure children obtain a solid understanding of key concepts, knowledge and skills. The aim is to empower our children and carefully build their understanding of subjects. The content is specified in detail and is taught to be remembered, not just encountered. Children are taught to make horizontal, vertical and cross-curricular links, building on previous knowledge and understanding over time.

Our curriculum is devised from the expectations of the National Curriculum and adapted to meet the needs of our learners, reflecting our context where possible. Planning for some subjects is formed in collaboration with our Trust (NPAT) while other subjects are supported by evidence-based schemes. All of our curriculum seeks to make links between areas of learning and is supported by the principles of cognitive science: ensuring information is chunked; providing multiple opportunities to revisit and build on knowledge; quizzing to ensure information is transferred to long term memory.

Promoting independence in learning is a key feature of our curriculum and fluent reading is a key priority in our teaching. Reading enables access to the wide curriculum and unlocks life-long learning. Children are actively involved in their own learning and are encouraged to reflect, improve and share their successes.

Please visit our website for a comprehensive view of the subjects we teach in each year group.

Extended School Activities

We provide a range of activities that take place outside of our usual teaching time. These are in addition to our extensive curriculum opportunities and experiences. These activities offer a range of opportunities that include sport, ICT, music, languages, dance and art. We aim to continue to enhance this provision every year. Whilst we try to provide out of school activities free of charge, we do on occasion have to request a financial contribution to some of our extra-curricular activities. Our aim is to offer all children at least one extended school activity free of charge.

We also try to enhance the children's learning with a range of experiences beyond the usual teacher/classroom one. We subsidise educational visits and visitors and keep costs to parents as low as possible, but there are times when a contribution towards these experiences may be requested. If parents are unable to meet these payments, the school will attempt to support. Please ask at the school office.

Before and After School Care — available for those who attend the Ecton Brook Campus only:

We are extremely privileged to have quality before-school and after-school provision run by experienced staff. Varied and exciting activities are prepared during these sessions to stimulate the children's imagination and enjoyment. This childcare provision is available Monday to Friday from 8 am to the start of the school day and from 3.15 until 5.45 p.m. The breakfast and after-school club is only available to pupils who attend the Ecton Brook site. Pupil Information packs, including costs, can be collected from the school office.

The learning partnership

We value and encourage a strong, positive partnership between home and school, and believe this to be essential in maximising the development of your child. Every effort is made to foster good relationships between families and the school in order to benefit the children's whole education. We value the role of parents in their children's education, and encourage parents to be involved at all levels, from helping children with their homework and attending Termly Learning Conferences (parents' evenings). All staff are more than happy to chat with parents about their child either informally during drop off and pick up or more formally through pre-arranged meetings.

The school holds Termly Learning Conferences, twice per year, where children invite their parents into school to celebrate their work in their books, show them their classroom, and share their learning experiences. Next steps in learning are discussed between parents, the teacher and the child and progress in learning is celebrated.

All parents receive a full written report about their child at the end of each academic year. These reports provide a comprehensive guide to your child's progress over the year, identify where your child's attainment fits in with the expected attainment for his/her age, and provides targets for future development.

Throughout the year parents are invited to events such as assemblies, parental engagement sessions, concerts and plays; where children have the opportunity to demonstrate their performance and speaking and listening skills as well as share their learning.

Homework:

Research shows that children who reinforce their learning at home with their parents succeed better in school.

As a school our greatest priority is ensuring that every child can read fluently and develop a love of reading. Our expectation in school is that every child reads at home at least four times per week. The children have a 'Home-School' link book, where they can record their reading successes. Spelling, maths and writing activities are included in homework, with some activities being internet based.

Each term, Learning Organisers related to subjects such as Geography, History, RE and Art are sent home. The Learning Organiser has information about what the children will be learning in the next term and includes useful vocabulary and links to further information. It's a great way for parents to share in their children's learning and carry out some additional research or visits to museums etc.

Behaviour:

At Ecton Brook Primary School, we teach and promote positive behaviour with an emphasis on care, thoughtfulness, respect and tolerance. We encourage respect for ourselves, for other people and for property. We work positively towards achieving high standards of behaviour from all children at all times. We support all of our work on behaviour with a positive approach which celebrates good work and good behaviour. Quality, effort, care and good manners are all acknowledged in a positive way. Our school Behaviour Policy can be found on our website or requested at the school office.

Parents registering their children for school:

Those children who are four years of age on or before the 31st August are eligible to start school in September and parents have the right to register a preference for the school of their choice. Parents need to register their preference with the Local Education Authority (LEA) Northampton during the autumn term or early spring prior to their children starting school. The Local Authority informs parents of the place they have been given during April of each year and asks parents to confirm acceptance of this offer.

The responsibility for the allocation of places lies with the admissions authority, which for this school is the Local Authority in negotiation with the School Governors. The Local Authority operates an appeals procedure, details of which can be obtained from the school. Parents need to be aware that the standard admission number for reception year at this school is 90 (60 on Ecton Brook Campus and 30 on Bellinge Campus).

Children starting school:

Children start school in September on a part-time basis for the first few days before going full-time. We also delay the start of term by a week to allow for home visits to take place. Home visits are an important feature of the settling in process as it allows you and your child to establish clear links with the school.

Children are offered either a morning or an afternoon place. After the initial part-time period, children can come into school on a full-time basis, provided that they are settled in school.

Safeguarding Children:

Ecton Brook Primary School is committed to ensuring the welfare and safety of all children in school. All Northamptonshire schools, including Ecton Brook Primary School, follow the Northamptonshire Local Safeguarding Children Board Inter-Agency Procedures. The school will, in most circumstances, endeavour to discuss all concerns with parents about their child/ren. However, there may be exceptional circumstances when the school will discuss concerns with Social Care and/or the Police without parental knowledge (in accordance with Child Protection procedures). The school will, of course, always aim to maintain a positive relationship with all parents. The school's child protection policy is available on request.

The suitability of all of our staff and helpers is checked using the Disclosure and Barring Service checks and staff details are kept securely on a central register. This includes regular providers of extended school provision and volunteers.

The Governing Body regularly monitor the safety and security of the school through Health and Safety checks and monitoring visits.

Most staff have undergone basic first aid training and there are a number of qualified First Aiders (including designated Paediatric First Aiders) on both campuses and these staff are consulted if an injury is causing concern. On a day-to-day basis, minor cuts and bruises are looked after by school staff. If an injury is considered to be serious or is causing a child a great deal of discomfort, parents are contacted so that they have the option to come into school and see their child.

Equal Opportunities:

The curriculum of the school is designed to promote respect, cultural understanding and harmony amongst the range of ethnic backgrounds in society. We recognise and celebrate diversity in a positive way and promote British Values in line with Government expectations. Our curriculum allows equality of opportunity for all children regardless of race, gender, language, ability or religion. We ensure that all pupils receive their entitlement of a relevant, balanced and broadly based curriculum. The inclusion of all children is important to us and every effort is made to ensure that the curriculum we offer is accessible to all children whatever their individual needs may be. Vulnerable learners are well supported and provision is targeted to meet their needs.

The school has a zero-tolerance approach to racism, prejudice and discrimination and all issues will be dealt with seriously and in accordance with current legislation and the school behaviour policy.

Personal and Social Development:

The school works hard to enhance children's personal, social and emotional development in order to equip pupils with the skills, resilience, motivation and wellbeing that they need to become effective citizens in life.

This is achieved in the following ways:

- PSHE (Physical, Social, Health Education) curriculum taught throughout the school e RSE (Relationships, Sex Education) curriculum taught in line with Government expectations
- Online Safety taught throughout the wider curriculum
- Promotion of healthy eating and fitness
- Pupil responsibilities and leadership roles including playtimes
- Small group support with social expectations in friendships and work groups
- Wellbeing groups and sessions
- Nurture provision and pastoral support
- Family Support Workers
- Rewards and praise linked to positive social skills
- Assemblies and visitors to school
- National events such as Children in Need, Anti-bullying week, Mental Health Day
- Policies including the Anti-bullying Policy and Behaviour Policy

Additional Targeted Needs:

There may be times in a child's education when they will need additional resources and support to help them fulfil their potential. This may be because of a special educational need, a gift or talent, an additional language barrier or a social/emotional need. This support usually takes the form of a programme of work tailored to a child's individual needs. It might involve the use of additional small group work or one-to-one sessions with a teaching assistant. Whatever the need, it is our policy to involve parents at the earliest possible stage.

Special Educational Needs:

The school's policy for Special Educational Needs is regularly reviewed to ensure that it meets the requirements of "The Code of Practice for the Identification and Assessment of Special Educational Needs" as set out by the Department for Children, Schools and Families.

The school has a SENCo (Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator) and two SEN teachers. We also take advice from a range of specialist agencies to support our provision for children with special educational needs. We try to ensure that parents receive all the support and information that is available to them.

If the school feels that it is unable to fully meet the needs of a child without additional support, they may in consultation with the parents - apply for a statutory assessment of a child's needs. This may result in a multi-agency plan of support known as an EHCP (Education Healthcare Plan) being drawn up.

Religious Education:

Religious Education is based on the County's Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education which takes into consideration elements of the Christian faith and other major world religions. The work the children complete reflects nationally agreed schemes of work.

As part of their R.E. education, children will be introduced to a range of religions, including Hinduism, Islam, Sikhism and Christianity. R.E. is an important part of our curriculum as knowledge of a range of religions is used to promote diversity, respect and tolerance.

Parents should be aware of the provision made in the 1944 Education Act allowing exemption from any part of Religious Education or the daily act of collective worship. Parents who wish to withdraw their child from any part of R.E. or the collective act of worship are requested to come in to school to discuss their wishes with the head teacher as we actively encourage all children to develop knowledge of and respect for the range of religions in our society.

We are a community school and collective acts of worship have a broadly Christian focus.

Supporting Parents:

The school strives to support parents with all issues which may impact on their child. We have a number of Family Support Workers who are available to offer advice and support around many difficulties that can be encountered in families. Parent Governors can also be approached regarding whole-school issues, and parents are welcome to speak to their child's teacher or a senior leader about any concerns they may have regarding school. We have links with many outside agencies who are also able to support parents with family issues.

School Governors:

The school's Governing Body underpins all that takes place in school. They work in partnership with the children, parents, staff and the community. The governors ensure that the correct levels of provision are there for all children and have an overview of the education provided by the school.

The Governing Body is a mixture of selected, elected and co-opted representatives of the communities, including the school staff, our parents, members of the community and our Local Education Authority. It aims to create a balance of interested parties in the provision of education at Ecton Brook Primary School for both campuses.

You can contact the Governing Body by email on enquiries@ectonbrook.org.uk or leave a message at the school office for someone to contact you by phone.
