Bespoke Ring
For Tracy Ting

“A jewel is for life. It is an object that becomes part of you, your style, your story, your memory that can be passed down for generations.”

Bex's mission is to enrich lives through conscious bespoke designs bridging the gap between artisan and collector, whilst educating both worlds to preserve traditional craft and deliver you a handcrafted personal talisman.

Bex's process is one of collaborative design with both the artisan and the collector, whilst respecting the artisans cultural techniques as well as embodying the collectors requirements.

Meet Pak Komang

A master silversmith whose expertise has been passed down through generations. As the only remaining heir to his father's legacy, Pak Komang continues the tradition of silver craftsmanship with unmatched skill and dedication.

His artistry transforms raw silver into timeless treasures, preserving a heritage that dates back centuries.

We are proud to be able to collaborate with Komang to create limited edition modern heirlooms

Tracy Ting's Ring

The ring is made using the hammered technique, an ancient silversmithing method that gives the metal a unique texture and durability. The hammered finish also symbolizes resilience and the beauty found in imperfection—an apt metaphor for a lasting relationship.

The two diamonds in this ring represent the unity of two souls, reflecting a bond that is unbreakable and enduring.
