

3Dsellers Launches an All-In-One Platform For eBay Sellers to Drive Business Growth

A fully comprehensive platform for eBay sellers, first of its kind, combines the most valuable tools needed to efficiently enhance business opportunities.

Herzliya, Israel - June 1st, 2018 - Today, 3Dsellers, the biggest app provider for eBay, announced its all-in-one platform launch. The company offers seven powerful tools under one solution. This unique solution paves the way for eBay sellers to develop and manage their online business effectively within a single dashboard, eliminating the need for multiple resources.

The launch of 3Dsellers widens opportunities for eBay sellers to drive success with a growing list of functions featured. One of the most impressive features is an automated feedback reminder. This tool pumps the overall eBay feedback score, which directly affects sellers' profit.

All messages sent through 3Dsellers email marketing tool are sent via eBay messaging system, ensuring deliverability and high engagement rate. Other tools include a listing designer, designed by world's best eCommerce designers with which product listings can be designed in bulk with cross promotional categories, a synced Facebook store, a facile video production tool as well as product catalog generator. Moreover, all 3Dsellers features are fully customizable to reflect each sellers' business style.

"We are all very excited to finally offer an advantage for eBay sellers by providing a single, modern platform that combines vital tools in one place," says 3Dsellers CEO and Co-founder Alex Flom, "3Dsellers will continue to invest in software tools that enable eBay users to grow their business potential while catering exceptional customer service. Our mission is to help sellers, like myself, maximize conversions and profits."

As a solution-based start-up, the 3Dsellers platform equips eBay sellers with efficient opportunities to deliver professionalism and business transparency.
