3Dsellers Opens Its Doors to Wix Inkfrog Users After Shutdown

eBay Silver Solution provider offers Inkfrog sellers a $75 credit and free migration help before the June 1 shutdown

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 1, 2026 -- On April 29, 2026, Wix-owned Inkfrog announced it will shut down on June 1, 2026, giving eBay sellers just over a month to find alternative solutions. In response, 3Dsellers, the all-in-one eBay selling manager and official eBay-designated Silver Solution provider, is stepping up to welcome displaced Inkfrog users with open arms, offering advanced listing management capabilities and a $75 credit voucher for new users making the switch.

"We understand how disruptive an unexpected platform closure can be for sellers who depend on their listing tools to run their business. 3Dsellers is ready to help Inkfrog users transition smoothly with personalized onboarding assistance and a special welcome offer," said Avi Assa, CEO of 3Dsellers.

What Led Up to the Inkfrog Shutdown

Inkfrog has been a fixture in the eBay seller community since 1999, when it was founded by Greg Sisung as a listing and inventory management platform designed specifically for eBay and multichannel sellers. The platform helped sellers create, manage, and schedule eBay listings while syncing inventory across multiple ecommerce platforms including Shopify, Amazon, and BigCommerce.

In February 2020, Inkfrog was acquired by Wix as part of the website builder's expansion into ecommerce solutions. After operating under the Wix umbrella for over six years, the company sent emails to users on April 29 announcing the difficult decision to shut down effective June 1, 2026. Users have until May 31 to export their listing data from the platform.

Why 3Dsellers Is the Natural Choice for Inkfrog Users

For Inkfrog sellers searching for a new listing management solution, 3Dsellers offers a compelling alternative with capabilities that go well beyond basic listing tools. The platform offers robust multichannel listing management integration for Amazon, Shopify, Walmart, WooCommerce, Etsy, and even Facebook, and brings a comprehensive suite of AI tools to streamline every aspect of online selling.

In addition to its multichannel integrations, 3Dsellers offers advanced inventory management capabilities, bulk editing tools, comprehensive analytics across channels, and a suite of AI-powered tools for listing creation and optimization. That covers everything Inkfrog users relied on, enhanced with modern automation and intelligence.

Special Welcome Offer for Inkfrog Sellers

To ease the transition for displaced Inkfrog sellers, 3Dsellers is offering new users coming from Inkfrog a $75 credit voucher that can be applied toward membership plans or premium add-ons, as well as personalized migration assistance free of charge. This welcome offer package is designed to help sellers get started with 3Dsellers without additional financial burden during an already challenging transition period.

For Inkfrog sellers who have not yet decided on their next eBay listing software, 3Dsellers offers the opportunity to test drive the platform through a free 7-day trial with no credit card required and no commitment.

Moving Forward After the Shutdown

The closure of Inkfrog represents more than just the closure of a single platform. It is a reminder of the importance of choosing listing management solutions backed by long-term commitment and continuous innovation. For sellers who built their businesses relying on Inkfrog's tools, the shutdown underscores the need for platforms that not only provide robust features today, but invest in the technology that will power ecommerce selling tomorrow.

As the eBay selling landscape continues to evolve, sellers need partners who understand the challenges they face and are committed to helping them succeed. 3Dsellers has been that partner for over 15 years, and is ready to continue that mission for the Inkfrog community making the switch.

Inkfrog users interested in learning more about 3Dsellers or claiming the $75 welcome credit can reach out to the support team directly for personalized migration assistance.
