

Congresswoman Shontel Brown – Ohio 11
2455 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Congresswoman Brown,

In November, 2025, the Bishops of the United States gathered in Baltimore for their annual plenary assembly. In a unique action, the Bishops, with overwhelming support, issued a Special Message addressing their concerns surrounding the plight of immigrants in our country. I encourage you to read the full message reprinted on the reverse side of this letter.

As a Catholic, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of Ohio, I wholeheartedly agree with their message and believe that all people have a basic dignity that must be upheld regardless of status and in all circumstances. As the bishops rightly recognize, “Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.” The bishops go on to remind us that “generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation.”

Changes must be made to our immigration laws and procedures, and I urge you to support efforts to accomplish this necessary goal. To quote the bishops, “We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.”

Like the bishops, I pray for an end to the violence, dehumanizing rhetoric, and indiscriminate deportation of fellow human beings. I call on you, Congresswoman Brown, to take immediate action to ensure that all immigrants living in Ohio and across our country are treated by government agents with the dignity and respect to which all God’s children are entitled. I also urge you to use your voice to advocate for compassionate, fair and just immigration laws that respect the sovereignty of our borders as well as the dignity, rights and aspirations of those born in other lands who seek to call the United States of America their new home.

Name (please print) _____

Signature _____

Date _____

As pastors, we the bishops of the United States are bound to our people by ties of communion and compassion in Our Lord Jesus Christ. We are disturbed when we see among our people a climate of fear and anxiety around questions of profiling and immigration enforcement. We are saddened by the state of contemporary debate and the vilification of immigrants. We are concerned about the conditions in detention centers and the lack of access to pastoral care. We lament that some immigrants in the United States have arbitrarily lost their legal status. We are troubled by threats against the sanctity of houses of worship and the special nature of hospitals and schools. We are grieved when we meet parents who fear being detained when taking their children to school and when we try to console family members who have already been separated from their loved ones.

Despite obstacles and prejudices, generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation. We as Catholic bishops love our country and pray for its peace and prosperity. For this very reason, we feel compelled now in this environment to raise our voices in defense of God-given human dignity.

Catholic teaching exhorts nations to recognize the fundamental dignity of all persons, including immigrants. We bishops advocate for a meaningful reform of our nation's immigration laws and procedures. Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.

We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.

The Church's teaching rests on the foundational concern for the human person, as created in the image and likeness of God (Genesis 1:27). As pastors, we look to Sacred Scripture and the example of the Lord Himself, where we find the wisdom of God's compassion. The priority of the Lord, as the Prophets remind us, is for those who are most vulnerable: the widow, the orphan, the poor, and the stranger (Zechariah 7:10). In the Lord Jesus, we see the One who became poor for our sake (2 Corinthians 8:9), we see the Good Samaritan who lifts us from the dust (Luke 10:30–37), and we see the One who is found in the least of these (Matthew 25). The Church's concern for neighbor and our concern here for immigrants is a response to the Lord's command to love as He has loved us (John 13:34).

To our immigrant brothers and sisters, we stand with you in your suffering, since, when one member suffers, all suffer (cf. 1 Corinthians 12:26). You are not alone! We note with gratitude that so many of our clergy, consecrated religious, and lay faithful already accompany and assist immigrants in meeting their basic human needs. We urge all people of good will to continue and expand such efforts.

We oppose the indiscriminate mass deportation of people. We pray for an end to dehumanizing rhetoric and violence, whether directed at immigrants or at law enforcement. We pray that the Lord may guide the leaders of our nation, and we are grateful for past and present opportunities to dialogue with public and elected officials. In this dialogue, we will continue to advocate for meaningful immigration reform.

*As disciples of the Lord, we remain men and women of hope,
and hope does not disappoint! (cf. Romans 5:5)*

May the mantle of Our Lady of Guadalupe enfold us all in her maternal and loving care and draw us ever closer to the heart of Christ.

Senator Bernie Moreno
SR-284 Russell Senate Office Bldg.
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Moreno,

In November, 2025, the Bishops of the United States gathered in Baltimore for their annual plenary assembly. In a unique action, the Bishops, with overwhelming support, issued a Special Message addressing their concerns surrounding the plight of immigrants in our country. I encourage you to read the full message reprinted on the reverse side of this letter.

As a Catholic, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of Ohio, I wholeheartedly agree with their message and believe that all people have a basic dignity that must be upheld regardless of status and in all circumstances. As the bishops rightly recognize, “Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.” The bishops go on to remind us that “generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation.”

Changes must be made to our immigration laws and procedures, and I urge you to support efforts to accomplish this necessary goal. To quote the bishops, “We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.”

Like the bishops, I pray for an end to the violence, dehumanizing rhetoric, and indiscriminate deportation of fellow human beings. I call on you, Senator Moreno, to take immediate action to ensure that all immigrants living in Ohio and across our country are treated by government agents with the dignity and respect to which all God’s children are entitled. I also urge you to use your voice to advocate for compassionate, fair and just immigration laws that respect the sovereignty of our borders as well as the dignity, rights and aspirations of those born in other lands who seek to call the United States of America their new home.

Name (please print) _____

Signature _____

Date _____

As pastors, we the bishops of the United States are bound to our people by ties of communion and compassion in Our Lord Jesus Christ. We are disturbed when we see among our people a climate of fear and anxiety around questions of profiling and immigration enforcement. We are saddened by the state of contemporary debate and the vilification of immigrants. We are concerned about the conditions in detention centers and the lack of access to pastoral care. We lament that some immigrants in the United States have arbitrarily lost their legal status. We are troubled by threats against the sanctity of houses of worship and the special nature of hospitals and schools. We are grieved when we meet parents who fear being detained when taking their children to school and when we try to console family members who have already been separated from their loved ones.

Despite obstacles and prejudices, generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation. We as Catholic bishops love our country and pray for its peace and prosperity. For this very reason, we feel compelled now in this environment to raise our voices in defense of God-given human dignity.

Catholic teaching exhorts nations to recognize the fundamental dignity of all persons, including immigrants. We bishops advocate for a meaningful reform of our nation's immigration laws and procedures. Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.

We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.

The Church's teaching rests on the foundational concern for the human person, as created in the image and likeness of God (Genesis 1:27). As pastors, we look to Sacred Scripture and the example of the Lord Himself, where we find the wisdom of God's compassion. The priority of the Lord, as the Prophets remind us, is for those who are most vulnerable: the widow, the orphan, the poor, and the stranger (Zechariah 7:10). In the Lord Jesus, we see the One who became poor for our sake (2 Corinthians 8:9), we see the Good Samaritan who lifts us from the dust (Luke 10:30–37), and we see the One who is found in the least of these (Matthew 25). The Church's concern for neighbor and our concern here for immigrants is a response to the Lord's command to love as He has loved us (John 13:34).

To our immigrant brothers and sisters, we stand with you in your suffering, since, when one member suffers, all suffer (cf. 1 Corinthians 12:26). You are not alone! We note with gratitude that so many of our clergy, consecrated religious, and lay faithful already accompany and assist immigrants in meeting their basic human needs. We urge all people of good will to continue and expand such efforts.

We oppose the indiscriminate mass deportation of people. We pray for an end to dehumanizing rhetoric and violence, whether directed at immigrants or at law enforcement. We pray that the Lord may guide the leaders of our nation, and we are grateful for past and present opportunities to dialogue with public and elected officials. In this dialogue, we will continue to advocate for meaningful immigration reform.

*As disciples of the Lord, we remain men and women of hope,
and hope does not disappoint! (cf. Romans 5:5)*

May the mantle of Our Lady of Guadalupe enfold us all in her maternal and loving care and draw us ever closer to the heart of Christ.

Senator Jon Husted
SR-304 Russell Senate Office Bldg.
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Husted,

In November, 2025, the Bishops of the United States gathered in Baltimore for their annual plenary assembly. In a unique action, the Bishops, with overwhelming support, issued a Special Message addressing their concerns surrounding the plight of immigrants in our country. I encourage you to read the full message reprinted on the reverse side of this letter.

As a Catholic, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of Ohio, I wholeheartedly agree with their message and believe that all people have a basic dignity that must be upheld regardless of status and in all circumstances. As the bishops rightly recognize, “Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.” The bishops go on to remind us that “generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation.”

Changes must be made to our immigration laws and procedures, and I urge you to support efforts to accomplish this necessary goal. To quote the bishops, “We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.”

Like the bishops, I pray for an end to the violence, dehumanizing rhetoric, and indiscriminate deportation of fellow human beings. I call on you, Senator Husted, to take immediate action to ensure that all immigrants living in Ohio and across our country are treated by government agents with the dignity and respect to which all God’s children are entitled. I also urge you to use your voice to advocate for compassionate, fair and just immigration laws that respect the sovereignty of our borders as well as the dignity, rights and aspirations of those born in other lands who seek to call the United States of America their new home.

Name (please print) _____

Signature _____

Date _____

As pastors, we the bishops of the United States are bound to our people by ties of communion and compassion in Our Lord Jesus Christ. We are disturbed when we see among our people a climate of fear and anxiety around questions of profiling and immigration enforcement. We are saddened by the state of contemporary debate and the vilification of immigrants. We are concerned about the conditions in detention centers and the lack of access to pastoral care. We lament that some immigrants in the United States have arbitrarily lost their legal status. We are troubled by threats against the sanctity of houses of worship and the special nature of hospitals and schools. We are grieved when we meet parents who fear being detained when taking their children to school and when we try to console family members who have already been separated from their loved ones.

Despite obstacles and prejudices, generations of immigrants have made enormous contributions to the well-being of our nation. We as Catholic bishops love our country and pray for its peace and prosperity. For this very reason, we feel compelled now in this environment to raise our voices in defense of God-given human dignity.

Catholic teaching exhorts nations to recognize the fundamental dignity of all persons, including immigrants. We bishops advocate for a meaningful reform of our nation's immigration laws and procedures. Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together.

We recognize that nations have a responsibility to regulate their borders and establish a just and orderly immigration system for the sake of the common good. Without such processes, immigrants face the risk of trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Safe and legal pathways serve as an antidote to such risks.

The Church's teaching rests on the foundational concern for the human person, as created in the image and likeness of God (Genesis 1:27). As pastors, we look to Sacred Scripture and the example of the Lord Himself, where we find the wisdom of God's compassion. The priority of the Lord, as the Prophets remind us, is for those who are most vulnerable: the widow, the orphan, the poor, and the stranger (Zechariah 7:10). In the Lord Jesus, we see the One who became poor for our sake (2 Corinthians 8:9), we see the Good Samaritan who lifts us from the dust (Luke 10:30–37), and we see the One who is found in the least of these (Matthew 25). The Church's concern for neighbor and our concern here for immigrants is a response to the Lord's command to love as He has loved us (John 13:34).

To our immigrant brothers and sisters, we stand with you in your suffering, since, when one member suffers, all suffer (cf. 1 Corinthians 12:26). You are not alone! We note with gratitude that so many of our clergy, consecrated religious, and lay faithful already accompany and assist immigrants in meeting their basic human needs. We urge all people of good will to continue and expand such efforts.

We oppose the indiscriminate mass deportation of people. We pray for an end to dehumanizing rhetoric and violence, whether directed at immigrants or at law enforcement. We pray that the Lord may guide the leaders of our nation, and we are grateful for past and present opportunities to dialogue with public and elected officials. In this dialogue, we will continue to advocate for meaningful immigration reform.

*As disciples of the Lord, we remain men and women of hope,
and hope does not disappoint! (cf. Romans 5:5)*

May the mantle of Our Lady of Guadalupe enfold us all in her maternal and loving care and draw us ever closer to the heart of Christ.