CASE STUDY

ABOUT:

Rogers Communications is the largest telecom provider in Canada with over 10 million subscribers and are heavily involved in media and broadcasting.

PAIN POINTS:

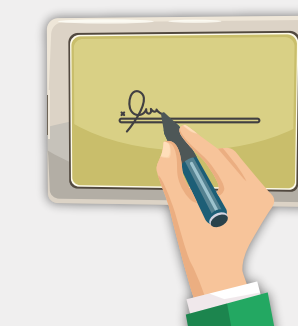

- High operational costs for paper, shipping, storage, and administration.
- ‘Walk Out Working’ setup checklist was often forgotten, increasing post-sale support requests.

RESULT:

Paper contract costs fell by 87%, saving Rogers millions per year.

Digital ‘Walk Out Working’ forms now appear alongside contract signing. The number of support requests decreased, and customers are downloading more self-help resources.

Customers only had to sign one copy of the contract, reducing the transaction time and improving their experience.

REDUCE YOUR SUPPORT NEEDS BY DIGITIZING CHECKLISTS & FORMS

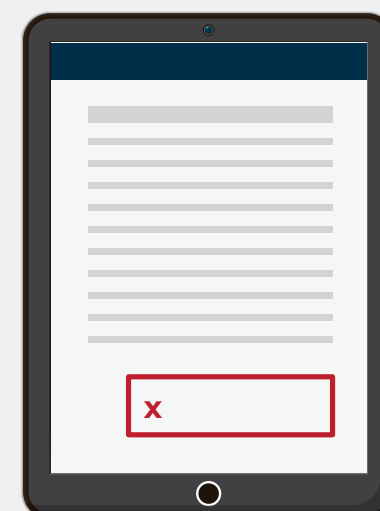

Automate checklists, like Walk Out Working, to ensure customers are set up before leaving the store.

- Forms appear after contract signing so they can't be forgotten.
- Customers are emailed a copy with links to support resources.
- Audit capabilities make it possible to incentivize form completion.

STRENGTHEN SECURITY AND ENFORCEABILITY

Controlled workflows mean no signature points can be missed. Our solution supports multiple signing stages and approvals. All actions can be audited, including searches, views, and other activities.
