At Five Dog Solutions, we pride ourselves on delivering exceptional results for our clients, and our recent success with a smoke removal campaign is no exception. In a competitive online landscape, achieving success in search engine rankings is no easy feat. But when it comes to capturing local markets, we know exactly how to get results.

We were tasked with creating a comprehensive SEO strategy for the keyword “smoke removal” across 51 pages targeting cities that had recently been impacted by devastating forest fires. These cities, affected by the smoke and air pollution, needed a solution, and our goal was to ensure that our client’s website showed up as a reliable resource when residents and businesses were looking for immediate help.

Here’s where we went above and beyond: Out of the 51 pages we created, 48 achieved the coveted #1 ranking in Google’s search engine results pages (SERPs) for the keyword “smoke removal.” This is an extraordinary achievement, especially in a highly competitive field where getting to the top of Google’s results is no small task. Not many companies can claim this level of success, but at Five Dog Solutions, it’s the result of our dedication, expertise, and data-driven strategies.

The key to our success lies in the careful planning and execution of the SEO campaign. We didn’t just create 51 pages and hope for the best; we targeted cities that had recently been impacted by forest fires, offering a timely solution to a pressing problem. Our SEO team performed extensive keyword research, localized our content for each city, and optimized the on-page elements—ensuring that every page was tailored to address the unique concerns of residents in these affected areas.

By focusing on local SEO and incorporating highly relevant content, we were able to create landing pages that not only addressed the specific needs of those affected by the fires but also followed SEO best practices. We optimized the title tags, meta descriptions, headers, and internal linking strategies for each of the pages, which helped increase their authority in Google’s eyes.

Achieving 48 #1 rankings is a testament to our thorough approach, attention to detail, and deep understanding of how local SEO works. It’s not just about ranking high—it’s about providing value and addressing the real-world needs of people in crisis. By ranking at the top, our client’s services are easily accessible to people who need them the most.

This achievement sets Five Dog Solutions apart as a top-tier SEO agency. We don’t just meet expectations—we exceed them. If you’re looking for an SEO partner that delivers measurable, real-world results, Five Dog Solutions is the agency you can trust.
