- ☐ D Why did you do that?

QUESTION 10

Concept Tips

- Kind Words Wall celebrates kind actions.
- Explain feelings and reasons.
- Sharing is a kind action to mention.

Detailed Explanation

1. The wall is for kind words and actions.
2. 'I feel happy because I shared my toys.' tells about a kind action and a feeling.
3. Other choices do not show kindness or are off-topic.

11 When you want to ask your teacher for help in the classroom, which word is the most polite to start with: Excuse me, Hey, Oi, or Yo?

QUESTION 11

Concept Tips

- Polite words help us show respect to teachers.
- Different greetings are used for friends and for adults.
- "Excuse me" is a polite way to get an adult's attention.

Detailed Explanation

1. Identify the setting: classroom with a teacher.
2. Look for the most respectful and polite word.
3. "Excuse me" is commonly used to politely ask adults for help.
4. Other options like "Hey," "Oi," and "Yo" are too casual or even rude for teachers.
5. So, the correct answer is "Excuse me."

12 Read this sentence: 'I feel tired because I didn't sleep much.' Which feeling word is used in the sentence?

QUESTION 12

Concept Tips

- Feeling words describe emotions or how someone feels.
- Look for words that show a state or emotion.
- "Tired" is a common feeling word for someone with low energy.

Detailed Explanation

1. Read the sentence carefully and spot the word that shows an emotion or state.
2. "I feel tired"—the word after "feel" usually tells the emotion.
3. "Tired" is the word that tells us how the person feels.
4. So, the feeling word in the sentence is "tired."

13 Which word would you most likely say to a shopkeeper when you want to buy something: Please, Play, Run, or Jump?

QUESTION 13

Concept Tips

- Shopkeepers like polite words.
- "Please" is used when asking for something.
- The other words do not fit a shopping context.

Detailed Explanation

1. Think about what you say when you want to buy something.
2. "Play," "Run," and "Jump" are action words not used for asking.
3. "Please" is a polite word used to make a request.
4. So, the right choice is "Please."

- 14 In the playground, your friend asks, 'Do you want to play on the slide?' Which is a kind way to say you do not want to: No way!, I don't like slides, Go away, or Maybe later?

QUESTION 14

Concept Tips

- Kind words help keep friends happy.
- It's okay to say no, but how you say it matters.
- "Maybe later" is gentle and polite.

Detailed Explanation

1. Look for a response that is not rude or hurtful.
2. "No way!" and "Go away" can sound mean.
3. "I don't like slides" is honest but could be improved with kindness.
4. "Maybe later" is polite and keeps the friendship positive.
5. So, "Maybe later" is the best answer.

15 You see these two sentences: (1) Good morning, Mum! (2) Good morning, Ms Lee! Who are you talking to in the second sentence?

QUESTION 15

Concept Tips

- "Ms Lee" is a formal name used for teachers.
- We use titles like "Ms" or "Mr" at school.
- Family names are usually Mum or Dad.

Detailed Explanation

1. Read the second sentence: "Good morning, Ms Lee!"
2. Ms Lee is a name used for a teacher, not a family member.
3. So, you are talking to your teacher in the second sentence.

Expressing Feelings and Asking for Help Through Language

Generate questions for your resources within seconds.

16 Lina says, 'I like bananas!' and smiles. What is Lina showing with her words and face?

- ☐ A She is showing she is tired.
- ☐ B She is showing she likes bananas.
- ☐ C She is showing she is angry.
- ☐ D She is showing she wants to sleep.

QUESTION 16

Concept Tips

- People often use words and faces to show feelings.
- Smiling usually means someone is happy.
- Saying 'I like...' tells us about someone's preference.

Detailed Explanation

1. Lina says she likes bananas, so her words tell us her preference.
2. She smiles, which matches being happy about what she likes.
3. The correct answer is she is showing she likes bananas, because both the words and the smile express a positive feeling towards bananas.

17 You see a picture in a storybook where a child is frowning and has tears. What feeling is the child showing?

- ☐ A Happy
- ☐ B Excited
- ☐ C Sad
- ☐ D Hungry

QUESTION 17

Concept Tips

- Facial expressions give clues about feelings.
- Tears are often a sign of sadness.
- A frown is not usually happy.

Detailed Explanation

1. Notice the frown and tears in the picture.
2. Think about what those clues mean—tears and frowns often show sadness.
3. The correct answer is 'Sad' because those clues match feeling sad, not excited or hungry.
