ONBOARDING PROCESS EXPLAINER

Introduction

At Joe & the Juice, we prioritize creating a seamless and user-friendly onboarding experience for our new team members. Our streamlined approach focuses on utilizing integrations with key systems to ensure a smooth transition for new hires, allowing them to quickly integrate into our team and hit the ground running. Our goal during onboarding is to provide employees with as many competencies, as much confidence, and as thorough an understanding of their responsibilities as possible before starting behind the bar. This will ultimately enhance their experience and thereby increase their retention.

Pre-boarding Workplanner

- System: Workplanner
- Process: Pre-boarding, onboarding to WP
- Owner: Recruiter
- Link: Onboarding

Onboarding new hires to Workplanner is the first step in the onboarding process, which is done either by the recruiter or the responsible individuals in the market. When the new employee is onboarded on Workplanner, they will be able to view their shift plan, swap shifts, etc. The onboarding of the new employee on Workplanner involves creating a new onboarding and filling out the required information collected during the interview. Once the onboarding is created, a link to a Typeform will be sent to the new employee via the integrated function.

Pre-boarding Pre-boarding/Tech-flow

- System: Workplanner, Typeform
- Process: Pre-boarding,
- Owner: Recruiter

The pre-boarding tool functions as an automated integration that sends a Typeform questionnaire to the new employee when they are onboarded to Workplanner. The primary purpose of pre-boarding is partly to gather the employee information needed to create them in our system and process a contract, but mainly to provide our newly hired employees with the best start at Joe & the Juice. Here, they will gain an understanding of expectations, values, virtues, and what a day as a Juicer entails.

Our Global Standards and Onboarding Manual is to be followed at all times
