About the Resource Library

The Office of Farmland Preservation (OFP) hosts the Farmland Preservation Roundtable, which is a forum for farmland preservation practitioners across the state, including land trusts, CDs, local government, and other state agencies. The focus of the Roundtable has been on providing space for shared learning, addressing challenges in farmland preservation programs and goals, and developing innovative solutions to accelerate the pace of farmland preservation in the state.

OFP has been repeatedly asked how we could provide an improved clearinghouse for sharing information between Roundtable members, and to access lists of service providers who specialize in or have demonstrated experience with farmland preservation work, such as appraisers, surveyors, attorneys, and financial advisors.

The resource library provides the clearinghouse space for sharing information and is populated voluntarily by the Roundtable members. The library includes specific information for each service provider listed, including contact and service information. Inclusion in the library is voluntary. All information is provided by the Roundtable members themselves.

How to list resources, including service providers, in the library

If you would like to add resources to the Library, including a service provider's information, please use this Form for submitting Farmland Roundtable Resources.

- Note: If sharing resources related to service providers, please limit the resource to contact and service information, without opinion or review. The OFP and SCC are providing this resource library as a courtesy to farmland preservation practitioners; inclusion of resources in this library does not represent endorsement by OFP or SCC. Inappropriate or offensive reviews, opinions, or entries into the library are subject to removal at the sole discretion of OFP and the SCC.

If you have any questions about adding, removing, or updating an entry in this library, please contact Hilary Aten at haten@scc.wa.gov at OFP.
