After leaving Lonabaugh and Riggs, Lori joined the Crowley Fleck law firm and was responsible for establishing the Sheridan office where she was practicing at the time of her death.

In February 2007 Lori became a mother to Avery Alisa McMullen, and in December 2009, Michael Stewart McMullen and Carter William McMullen joined the family. Lori loved her children, and nothing was more important than their lives spent together and playing sports. She took them all over the U.S. to participate. The family spent Christmas on Captiva Island, Florida. Captiva Island was one of Lori's favorite places. In June following Avery's high school graduation, she and the kids spent three weeks in Hawaii. She mentioned many times how happy she was to spend the time with her Ohana.

Lori served on boards in Sheridan which include the Hub on Smith, the Whitney Foundation, and the Children Center.
