Nearest Green, affectionately nicknamed Uncle Nearest by his friends and family in Lynchburg, Tennessee is credited with helping perfect the globally recognized Lincoln County Process, which is the defining distinction between Kentucky Bourbon and Tennessee Whiskey. This unique filtering of whiskey through sugar maple charcoal was named after the county where Nearest lived and made his highly regarded Bourbon.

NEAREST GREEN TENNESSEE WHISKEY

- Celebrating the godfather of Tennessee whiskey at a more approachable 84-proof. It is perfect for sipping neat or mixing into your favorite cocktails.
- Inviting aromas of butterscotch, vanilla, and cinnamon are complimented with the brightness of fresh green apple, stone fruit, and lemon zest. A subtle hint of tobacco and wet stone adds an intriguing, layered complexity. Rich vanilla and freshly baked apple pastry take center stage, balanced by notes of black pepper, orange peel, and a touch of leather. Hints of ginger and clove provide a pleasant spice, while granite adds a slight minerality. Smooth, clean, and slightly spicy, with a balanced warmth that leaves you wanting more.

UNCLE NEAREST 1884 SMALL BATCH WHISKEY

- Mash bill consisting of 80% corn, with the remaining 20% split between rye and barley. It is aged a minimum of four years in new, level #4 charred American oak barrels and bottled at 93-proof.
- 1884 Small Batch presents with a lively nose of honey, warm brown sugar, cedar, orange peel, tobacco flower, ground ginger, and white pepper. On the palate, it warms, showing caramel balanced with spicy wood tannins, with notes of baking chocolate, cigar leaf, nougat, and cinnamon. The finish is long and smooth. The cinnamon lingers with dark chocolate, oak tannins, and maple syrup. A fantastic sipper, yet versatile enough for all your favorite cocktails.

UNCLE NEAREST 1856 PREMIUM WHISKEY

- A blend of up to four different mash bills, ranging from 70% – 84% corn, with the balance consisting of rye and barley. It is aged a minimum of four years in new, level #4 charred American oak barrels and bottled at 100-proof.
- A complex nose of maple, vanilla, cherries, black pepper, almond cookies, dried straw, and coconut pudding. The palate is pleasantly spicy, complemented by notes of caramel and brown sugar, marzipan, chocolate covered cherries, and crème brûlée with a touch of coconut. The finish is long and rich, with a lingering flavor of spiced honey. Due to the blending of different mash bills in this expression to consistently produce the most delicious whiskey, there will be slight variation in the flavor profile of Uncle Nearest 1856 from batch to batch.

UNCLE NEAREST STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEY

- Made with a mash bill of 100-percent rye. It is matured for at least four years in new, charred American oak barrels and undergoes a second maturation in used Uncle Nearest barrels before being bottled at 100-proof.
- The nose is bold and decadent with notes of praline, nutmeg, and white pepper. The palate is brimming with light vanilla cream, caramelized sugar, and the unmistakable spice of rye. The finish is long, rich, and well-balanced.

UNCLE NEAREST SINGLE BARREL WHISKEY

- This single barrel is different. It has the most distinct flavor profile of any of our whiskeys and was bottled at barrel strength to capture every nuance of this one-of-a-kind spirit.
- As each barrel is hand chosen and unique, the flavor profile will vary from batch to batch. The smooth character of our whiskey is what distinguishes it from all others. The legacy of our namesake is what makes it unrivaled.
