STATS IN FRANCE

REFLEXES

She possesses exceptional peripheral vision and great flexibility, qualities that allow her to react in split seconds to unexpected, deflected, or powerful shots, especially when facing direct attempts.

FOOTWORK

Her footwork is quite good; she rarely makes bad passes or misplaced clearances. Before receiving the ball, she already decides which teammate to pass to, and even under pressure, she makes the right decisions.

LOW SHOTS

Her ability to react to low shots is one of her greatest strengths. Thanks to her reflexes, positioning, and height, she manages to make countless saves on ground-level or low-driven shots.

CLOSING DOWN

She is a goalkeeper with excellent timing for coming out to close down when the play requires it, correctly extending her legs and arms to reduce the attacker's space and time to make decisions. Additionally, she often chooses to wait for the opponent's shot, showcasing great skill in stopping attempts.
