POLYVALENCE

Although he's right-footed, he handles his profile well when playing on the right flank. He has no problem making an impact on either flank, whether defensively or offensively. He can adapt to playing at left back, or even as a winger.

BUILD-UP PHASE

He's a very good passer. He's active in creating progression in attacks. From the base, he creates plays in the opponent's half through passes between the lines behind opposing midfielders or defenders.

DEFENSIVE READING

He understands well when to return to his zone to cover space, when to close down the play, or when to jump to anticipate and use the touchline to his advantage. This helps him neutralize the opponent's attacks.

DYNAMISM

He influences different lanes and heights. He can support build-ups, provide continuity in the midfield, and push deeper to deliver a cross. He generates volume, mobility, and moves into space to break through.
