STATS IN PERU

CROSSES

He has good timing to try lateral crosses. He can make them with his natural foot (right) and with his weak foot (left). He is accurate to deliver the ball.

DEFENSIVE SKILLS

He has great performance in ground challenges. He uses his body well to hold the rival and then anticipate. Also, he has reading of play to make pressing or to retreat into shape.

BACK AND FORTH

This aspect is super important on his forward movements. He goes back and forth to generate superiorities or equality in offensive and defensive duels. He can move centralized to look for depth.

POLYVALENCE

He is capable of adapting to different contexts, system and ideas of play. He can play as a right-back (main position), left-back, centre-back or winger. He is smart to cover various positions on the field and accomplish it both defensively and offensively.
