TACTICAL ANALYSIS

AERIAL PLAY

He possesses excellent body control in the air, allowing him to head the ball with power and accuracy, both to clear long balls in defense and to finish off set pieces in attack. He has considerable jumping ability.

READING TO DEFEND

Has a excellent defensive awareness. He reads and times his runs very well when intercepting long passes to avoid being exposed. Furthermore, he knows when to push up the defensive line to advance the team.

COVERAGES

He is usually alert to cover the backs of the full-backs and the other center-back, making corrections and providing cover. When he is the last man back, he typically chooses to hold off the opponent while his teammates reorganize defensively.

PASSING ACCURACY

A center-back with high effectiveness in passing delivery. Even under pressure, he tends to be effective. His technical skills make him ideal for building up the team's play from the back.

VISION

He has excellent vision when making long, forward passes. He aims to activate the forwards with these passes, which are usually accurate and quick. He frequently uses this tactic to provide his team with direct attacking play, especially when the opposition is applying heavy pressure.

PLAYING UNDER PRESSURE

He shows no nervousness or improvisation when under pressure. In fact, he sometimes takes the initiative, demonstrating the technical skills to create plays from the back.
