TACTICAL ANALYSIS

AERIAL GAME

In addition to its great height, it boasts a remarkable jump trajectory, a result of its high altitude. In the air, it possesses excellent body control, allowing it to avoid being knocked off balance and to easily maneuver its head.

SHOT

His shots from both near and far range are usually deadly. Besides being powerful and well-placed, he often forces a spill (or rebound) that is then capitalized on by his teammates.

ONE-TOUCH FOOTBALL

He boasts a very good 'one-touch' game, which is useful in fast transitions and for laying off long balls. Besides helping to bypass high-pressing lines, it allows him to quickly carve out clear scoring opportunities. He is rarely ever nudged off the ball in these situations.

TACTICAL ANALYSIS

FINISHING

He shows real determination in the final third. Besides having a powerful shot, he has excellent positioning to strike with an advantage. He doesn't second-guess his chances; he usually has his finishlined up—where and how he's going to hit it—before the ball even arrives.

TACTICAL READING

He has a superb understanding of game situations, knowing exactly which height and channel to occupy. Crucially, when it comes to finishing, his 'spatial awareness' is top-notch, allowing him to strike unmarked and with comfort. His ability to 'read the attacking space' is also highly notable.

LINK-UP ABILITY

He links up exceptionally well with teammates to build up and finalize attacking plays. He often relies on the central midfielders (or attacking mids) for quick lay-offs and to pivot play, and on occasion, executes effective one-two passes with the wingers.
