STATS IN PERU

DYNAMISM

He stands out as a midfielder who covers a lot of ground at different heights and in various positions on the field, making himself available as a passing option and supporting both defense and attack. This work rate allows him to be an actively involved player in the game.

INTENSITY TO DEFEND

He excels when he drops back to help defend and press, his drive and intensity stand out in keeping the opponent under siege and thus preventing advances through his sector.

GAME READING

He demonstrates great intelligence in reading game situations and knowing the ideal position and role to play. Although he frequently contributes to the attack, he always does so while being mindful of not leaving his zone exposed to counter-attacks or transitions between attack and defense.

PASS QUALITY

He has a high passing accuracy, including long passes. This allows him to be one of his team's key playmakers, connecting the defensive and attacking lines.
