THE CHÂTEAU DE VILLIERS-LE-MAHIEU

Nestled in a 12 hectare wooded park, Château de Villiers-le-Mahieu is the very first residence of the Les Maisons de Campagne brand.

Built in 1642 on the remains of a 13th-century fortress, the château changed hands many times over the centuries, eventually becoming the property of Count de Rohan Chabot, and later, the iconic painter Bernard Buffet. Whether on foot, by rowboat, or by bike, you can admire the château's historic stones, turrets, and hidden corners, each steeped in history.

It offers all the charm of a country home, without the hassle and far from clichés. The perfect setting for a unique, countryside corporate seminar in a timeless home.
