

Privacy Collection Statement

This Privacy Collection Statement contains details about how Logic Advisory Services Pty Ltd ABN 64 623 056 977, a private company based in Tasmania, Australia may collect, hold, use and disclose personal information you have provided to Logic Advisory Services for the purposes of verifying your identity and providing reporting capability to you, as per our engagement with your entity.

You can find out more about how we may use, disclose, process and handle your personal information by viewing our privacy policy.

The primary purpose of collecting your personal information (including your name, contact details, date of birth, nationality, government related identifiers, biometric information and any other information identifiable from any documents or data you provide (including any health information or sensitive personal information on the document) is for Logic Advisory Services, for the purposes of:

- Developing and providing to you any reporting or dashboarding to improve operational efficiencies in your business; and
- Communicating with you about your identity and your access permissions (if applicable).

Providing us with the requested information is not required by law. However, if you choose not to provide us with your personal information or provide incomplete information, we will not be able to fulfil your reporting requirements under the engagement terms outlined in our service agreement (also referred to as our Proposal document).

We are permitted to process your information for the purpose described in this Privacy Collection Statement by relying on one or more of the following lawful grounds: (a) you have explicitly agreed to us processing such information for a specific reason; (b) the processing is necessary to perform the agreement we have with you or to take steps to enter into an agreement with you; (c) the processing is necessary for us to comply with our legal obligations; or (d) the processing is necessary for our legitimate interests, which include: (i) to protect our business interests; (ii) to ensure that complaints are appropriately investigated; (iii) to evaluate, develop or improve our products and services; (iv) to keep you informed of relevant products and services unless you indicate that you do not wish us to do so. We generally rely on your specific consent to process special categories of personal data (i.e., 'sensitive information'). However, in some cases (for example, relating to an alleged offence), we may need to use some of that information to comply with our legal obligations.

By submitting or providing access rights to any information for Logic Advisory Services, you consent to Logic Advisory Services processing your information for the purpose described in this Privacy Collection Statement.

Where you have consented to our processing of such information (including any special categories of personal data), you may withdraw such consent at any time, by contacting us using the contact details in our Privacy Policy. Please note, however, that in certain circumstances it may be still lawful for us to continue processing this information even where consent has been withdrawn, if one of the other legal bases described above is applicable.

Logic Advisory Services is based in Australia. Your personal information will be stored within this jurisdiction in accordance with our Privacy Policy.

We may disclose your personal information to our agents, contractors and service providers (such as where we outsource functions to third parties).

We may disclose your information to regulators or government and statutory bodies, if required by law.

Our Privacy Policy also contains the contact details of our Privacy Officer and information regarding your rights (including how to withdraw your consent, if applicable) and how you can seek to access and correct your personal information or raise a privacy concern with us and how it will be dealt with.

If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Collection Statement, our Privacy Policy or how we handle your personal information, please contact one of our Directors.
