2022 Prophet's Rock 'Dry Riesling', Central Otago NZ

11 / 22 / 110

Prophet's rock is one of those great producers where a collision of unique terroir and masterful winemaking (in the form of legendary winemaker Paul Pujol) comes together to create something truly special. This wine comes from a steep, schist laden vineyard perched high above a glacial lake, this is essentially the perfect site to grow incredible Riesling on, and with Paul's deft touch in the cellar, this wine overdelivers. The aromats lean into preserved citrus, yuzu, white flowers, wet slate and a salty, almost briney note. In the mouth this is all class, there's a laser focused acid line that sends all that gorgeous citrus long down the palate, leaving a hint of white tea and chalk like minerality in its wake.

2024 Terre Nere 'Santo Spirito' Carricante Mt. Etna, Sicily IT

21 / 42 / 210

Mount Etna almost feels like an island within an island. A great behemoth where hundreds of old, gnarled vines grow out of avalanches of dark, crumbling lava soils. This is a region that thrived from ancient times until the late 1800s when it fell into the melancholic decay that became typical of 20th century Sicily. But now, much like the rest of Sicily, it has been reborn... and Terre Nere is possibly the best illustration of that. Santo Spirito sits over 700m above sea level, on the northern side of the volcano, here you'll find old Carricante vines growing from loosely packed volcanic ash. On the northern face the sheer size of the mountain blocks the sun out from late afternoon causing the temperatures to plummet. This wine's tightly wound, with structured acidity building a mouthwatering frame for layers of yellow apple and pear. Pithy grapefruit, blanched almond and rosemary sprigs mingle with spring blossoms, riding long over a salty, mineral-laced finish. A perfect side step for lovers of Chablis!

2024 Danjou Banessy 'Le Coste' Macabeo, Côtes Catalanes FR

16 / 32 / 160

Down in the south of France, all the way into the mountains that make the border with Spain, you'll find the brothers Danjou working away plot by plot, soil type by soil type to grow some of the finest and most elegantly characterful wines in all of France. This is a landscape of mountains and valleys tucked just inland from the mediterranean, where the soils are dark with schist, the sun shines bright, but at the same time is kept deliciously cool by altitude. The wines here, such as this one, reflect that showing off white nectarine, green apple skins and almond blossoms with a touch of warm, dried sea salt. It's a hyper detailed wine with a crunchy and stoney feeling that delivers incredibly refreshing fruit long over the finish. Perfect with a fillet of Barramundi.

2019 Radikon Ribolla Gialla (Skin Contact) Venezia Giulia, Friuli IT

23 / 46 / 150

When it comes to the ancient styles of wine that fall under the Skins/Amber umbrella, Radikon is without a doubt one of the top reference points. This is the most ancient style of wine still in existence today, reaching back through 8,000 years of history and culture... but, this style of winemaking was almost lost to time. Over much of the last century the regions that were best known for amber wines found themselves in post war border zones, and under regimes with an unsympathetic view towards their traditions. In the mid 90s Radikon, amongst a few others, was responsible for bringing these wines back into the public consciousness. Dried apricot, Valencia oranges and layers of ginger spice and black cardamom. The fruit explodes over the palate showing off orange blossom, matcha, and pomegranate over a long, salty finish.

ROSÉ

2023 Monteraponi Sangiovese Rosato, Tuscany, IT

12 / 24 / 120

Italian Rosato is a beautiful thing. Apart from conjuring images of the picturesque Italian countryside, they are also incredibly delicious and wildly refreshing! This Rosato by legendary Tuscan producer Monteraponi is from the high altitude vineyards of Radda in Chianti and is made from 100% Sangiovese. On the nose it's all strawberries and mascarpone cream with a dash of maraschino and balsamic glaze. There's crunchy frozen raspberries, red apple skins, and this incredible lift of blood orange and dried rose all laid out over a long, bone dry finish.

2025 Stonier Estate 'Reserve' Pinot Noir, Mornington Peninsula VIC

16 / 32 / 160

Amongst the first chasing fine Pinot on the peninsula, for many years Stonier led the charge, but then there were some years in the wilderness... Now back in private ownership, and driven by winemaker Julian Grounds with a focus on regenerative farming and artful winemaking, an icon is reborn! Vibrant red cherries and wild strawberry mingle with anise, lemon myrtle and wood-smoke, they build on the palate, driving long and fanning out over fine, mineral inflected tannin.

2021 Domaine Confuron-Cotetidot Pinot Noir, Vosne-Romanée, Burgundy FR

26 / 52 / 260

With a three star rating from the French Wine Revue, Confuron-Cotetidot sits alongside producers like Rousseau, Roumier, and Mugnier... which is not bad company to be keeping at all. Based in Vosne-Romanée, always organic and deeply traditional in the way they craft their wines, these are about finding the balance between power, purity and intensity that Burgundy can achieve. Deeply hedonistic, the wine reveals layers of red berries, satsuma plum, spent charcoal and asian spice, wildly vibrant and extremely luscious as it combines with fine, silken tannin.

2022 Borgogno 'No Name' Nebbiolo, Langhe (Barolo), IT

18 / 36 / 180

In 2005 Borgogno had their Barolo rejected by the appellation as not conforming to style. So, in protest, they declassified it, wrote 'No Name' on the plain label and sent it out into the world. To this day, this wine is a blend of Cannubi, Fossati and San Pietro, is made as a Barolo, declassified and released at a fraction of the price with a label in perpetual protest! It's a brooding wine, dark cherries, aniseed and dried rose, with a touch of black truffle coming through. There's a lovely balance of fresh red berries and dried cranberries against salted, burned butter, olive leaf and garam marsala layered over fine grained and elegantly placed tannin.

EXPLORING TUSCANY

As we continue to explore the wines of Tuscany, it is time for us to delve deep into the wines of cult producer, Azienda Agricola Monteraponi. The village of Monteraponi itself is a medieval hamlet, once home to Baron Ugo, Marquis of Tuscany in the late tenth century. It's a strange but beautiful place sitting high up in the Chianti Hills, in the commune of Radda, surrounded by dense, dark forests and silver olive trees.

Owner and winemaker, Michele Braganti farms these steeply sloped vineyards organically, seeking to produce grapes capable of expressing the elegance and complexity of this part of Radda.

These are the kinds of wines that lovers of fine Pinot Noir or Nebbiolo will find wildly compelling, and would be perfect to try side by side.

2020 Monteraponi 'Il Campitello' Chianti Classico Riserva, Radda, Tuscany IT

25 / 50 / 250

This is an extremely fragrant wine, sweet red cherries wrapped in jasmine blossom, bergamot and rosehip tea rise from the glass, a thread of alpine herb and aniseed comes through adding a layer of freshness. There's a fine boned and elegant nature to the wine, detailed tannin spreads out long over the palate delivering vibrant fruit along the way.

2019 Monteraponi 'Baron Ugo' Toscana Rosso IGT, Radda, Tuscany IT

28 / 56 / 280

The first thing you see here is savoury, funky woodland herbs and dried mushrooms dusted over the top of dark cherries and ripe figs, backed up with just a touch of smokey incense. There's a suppleness to the fruit on the palate, it's lush and friendly as it unfurls in the mouth to reveal layers of dense berry fruits over burly, rocky tannins.
